

GENERAL STOESSEL ARRIVES IN JAPANESE CITY

ATTACK MADE ON MAYOR

Edwin F. Lee Arrested
After Insulting the Executive.

Edwin F. Lee, a fruit merchant at 23 Telegraph avenue, viciously attacked Mayor Olney this morning because he was requested by the city's chief executive to remove his stands from the sidewalk. Before the encounter came to an end he asserted he "had a good mind to punch the Mayor's head."

To the abuse and invectives heaped on him by the fruit merchant because of the request for the removal of his fruit and goods from the sidewalk the Mayor did not reply. But when Lee threatened the Mayor with bodily harm he summoned Policeman Tobin and had the man arrested on a charge of obstructing the sidewalk. The Mayor did not put a charge of disturbing the peace against Lee.

The circumstances leading up to the trouble between the Mayor and Lee were that the Mayor was on his way to San Francisco when he came across the stands of Lee placed on the sidewalk. The Mayor suggested that the sidewalk was reserved for the use of pedestrians and that it was in violation of the law to obstruct the sidewalk.

"You had better go to San Francisco," snarled Lee, "and draw your salary. All that you do here is to bother us merchants and draw your pay. You have caused us enough trouble now."

Mayor Olney did not reply to this insult but reiterated his suggestion that it was for the public good that the goods be removed from the sidewalk.

This had the effect of starting Lee off. He indulged in profanity, called the Mayor unprintable names and is alleged to have said he would use his fists on the Mayor if he did not continue his trip to San Francisco at once.

The merchant's continued insults compelled the Mayor to take action. He sent for Policeman Tobin and had the man arrested for obstructing the sidewalk. If the Mayor had wished the could have placed a charge of using vulgar language and one of disturbing the peace against the wrathful merchant.

While being booked at the City Prison Mr. Lee seemed to think that the other officials of the city including the policeman needed a dressing down. He commenced on Jailer Henderson.

"Do you wish to communicate with your friends and get bail?" asked Henderson.

"No, I do not," said Lee.

"We will be compelled to lock you up then," replied Henderson.

"Well, this is a — of a fine town where a man is arrested when he has committed no crime."

"Do you wish to get money to put up as bail?" again asked Henderson.

"No, I don't," wrathfully declared the arrested merchant, "I want to be locked up."

Henderson was agreeable and at once proceeded to search Lee.

"No, you don't go through my pockets," said Lee. "You have no right to."

"Well, I will have to," replied Henderson.

Lee then submitted to the searching process without much grace and then demanded a receipt for the things taken from him. It was explained to him that there was no receipt given but that his valuables, which consisted of $2.05, a watch and a razor, were jotted down on the prison register in the presence of two policemen and himself and that this process served as a receipt. He characterized this proceeding as robbery.

He was led away to cell No. 1, stating that he would turn the entire official body out of office on March 1.

STOESSEL IS IN JAPAN

Noted Prisoner is Shown Every Courtesy by Enemy.

NAGASAKI, January 14.—The Japanese transport Kamakura, from Port Dalry, January 11 with General Stoessel and others on board, arrived here today.

After a prolonged quarantine inspection, Governor Arakawa, with the chief officials of this port, proceeded on board the Kamakura at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and General and Madame Stoessel, two of the Russian commanders' personal staff, seven other officers, two ladies and six orphan children were landed in their steam launches at the Inasa jetty, where they were received by a guard of fifty police and several officers and gendarmes. The general looked well and walked with a stately step.

Preceded by a few police officers and followed by his retinue General Stoessel slowly wended his way up the hill to a prettily situated bungalow on Inasa Hill, where he will be quartered. Half way there are some dozens of Russian officers finding that their late chief was arrived, ran up from all directions and saluted in respectful silence. The party then entered the house.

The closing act of the drama caused a feeling of sadness which was not dispelled by the glorious weather, beautiful surroundings and kind reception accorded to the Russians by the Japanese.

LIVED IN TRENCHES

TOKIO, January 14.—Lieutenant-General Naden, who is one of the Russian officers who gave their parole at Port Arthur and who has arrived here, is 65 years old. He said to an interviewer:

"When I entered Port Arthur I was a major-general. Since then I have been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-general and commanded the fourth division during the siege. I lived in the trenches. The bravery shown by the Japanese navy is beyond comparison. Its achievements are unparalleled. With the Japanese navy and the Russian army, nothing in the world could withstand us. Our soldiers are uneducated—it is not so with the Japanese. The bravery displayed by the Japanese soldiers is unrivaled. It seems shameful to kill such splendid men. I lament the tremendous sacrifice of life on both sides.

"The Emperor is a god sovereign. He seems to be disgusted at the cruelties of the war. I wish for peace. I think hostilities will cease during the coming autumn at the least."

EMPEROR'S HONORS

ST. PETERSBURG, January 14.—On the occasion of the Russian New Year Emperor Nicholas bestowed on Grand Duke Sergius a portrait of Alexander III, to be worn on his breast, with the ribbon of the order of St. Andrew.

Prince John Obolensky, the Governor-General of Finland, was given the Alexander-Newsky Order, set with brilliants.

Finance Minister Kokovlev has been appointed Secretary of State and retains his present post.

M. Walkoff, Governor of the Black Sea District, has been appointed Mayor of Moscow.

MRS. DUKE IS INDICTED FOR SWINDLING.

MRS. BRODIE L. DUKE.

Trying to Get Her Rich Young Husband Out of An Insane Asylum.

CHICAGO, January 14.—A special from Nacogdoches, Texas, to the Daily News, says: Indictments charging Charles F. Taylor and Alice L. Webb, now Mrs. Brodie L. Duke, with swindling have been made public.

These true bills were returned last September and have been kept in readiness by the Sheriff, awaiting the return of either or both of them to the State.

Mrs. Brodie L. Duke has come into notoriety during the last few days because of her application made in a New York court to compel the authorities to release her husband, from an insane asylum.

Mrs. Duke married Brodie L. Duke, a rich young man, about three weeks ago.

A few days after her marriage, her husband was taken in charge by his friends and relatives and placed in an asylum on the ground that he was insane when he contracted the marriage.

His bride, has taken legal proceedings to try and secure her husband's freedom.

The matter came up in the court yesterday, but the hearing was postponed.

In the meantime Duke is to be confined in a private sanitarium. He is a half-brother of the famous tobacco magnates of New York.

Mrs. Duke is well known in Chicago, and is said to owe her creditors over $50,000.

MRS. S. HUFF IS DEAD.

WELL KNOWN LADY PASSES AWAY AT SAN LEANDRO.

SAN LEANDRO, January 14.—Mrs. Amelia Huff, wife of Socrates Huff, president of the Bank of San Leandro, died this morning at 6 o'clock at her home on Estudillo avenue, after a prolonged illness.

During the past five weeks Mrs. Huff had been hovering between life and death and since Thursday evening had been unconscious.

Four months ago Mrs. Huff suffered a paralytic stroke and since that time, despite the most careful treatment, she sank rapidly and for some time past, the attendant physician, Dr. Kirby B.

DIMMICK TAKES AN APPEAL

Objects to Rules at San Quentin But is Overruled.

SACRAMENTO, January 14.—Walter H. Dimmick, who is serving eight years in San Quentin prison for the theft of $30,000 from the Mint in San Francisco and his friends have entered a protest with Governor Pardee against the treatment he is receiving at the hands of Warden Tompkins at the State Penitentiary.

In the protest presented to the Governor, Dimmick and his friends set forth that heretofore the federal prisoner was given certain privileges at the State institution.

When his friends called to see him he was permitted to converse with them without interference from guards or prisoners in a private room at the penitentiary.

Recently Warden Tompkins changed this rule and compelled Dimmick to receive and converse with his friends just like any other old convict.

That is to say, he has to talk with his friends through grates or through a wire screen.

It was from this change in the rule that Prisoner Dimmick appealed.

Governor Pardee has overruled the protest with the statement that the rules of Warden Tompkins will not be changed by the Executive.

TO TAKE COMMAND.

THE HAGUE, January 14.—Resident Admiral Intheghe is starting hurriedly for the Dutch East Indies to take command of the squadron there, charged with the maintenance of Dutch neutrality.

LEAVES LARGE FAMILY.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Huff leaves a family of six daughters and many grandchildren to mourn her loss. Her daughters are: Mrs. Bush Fennell of San Francisco, Mrs. O. S. Downing of San Francisco, Mrs. Jas. Sloane of Spokane, Wash.; Misses Jennie, Callie and Marnie Huff of San Leandro.

Socrates Huff is one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of San Leandro and the sympathy of the community goes out to him in this, his hour of bereavement.

The funeral will be held Monday at 11 a. m. from the family home on Estudillo avenue. Interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery.

HELD FOR DIAMOND ROBBERY

Local Police Make a Clever Capture at Golden Gate.

Emile Formus, wanted in Los Angeles for complicity in a diamond robbery, was run to earth in this city last night by Detective George Kyte, Sergeant of Police Lynch, and Policeman T. Brown.

The accused man was unintentionally betrayed by Andrew Schmidt of Golden Gate, a friend who was attempting to shield him from the police.

Formus it appears had been residing with Schmidt at 5700 Fremont street. When the police officers called there last night Schmidt was very indignant on being aroused and having his house searched by the police.

In fact Schmidt thought the principal that a man's house was his castle, had been outraged to such an extent that Sergeant Lynch thought it advisable to report the matter to Captain of Police Peterson, who directed the traitor man to be brought to police headquarters. Here Schmidt changed his tactics and volunteered to assist the police in locating Formus. He was allowed to depart on this promise.

Instead of going to his home and keeping a look out for Formus, Schmidt began to make a search of the various resorts in the city apparently trying to locate his friend and warn him of impending danger.

The police, however, did not put much credence in Schmidt's statement that he would inform them of Formus' presence at his house the moment he returned. Policeman Brown was detailed to watch the house on Fremont street. Detective Kyte and Sergeant Lynch shadowed Schmidt while he was making his rounds of the saloons in search of Formus. They finally followed him to Golden Gate where he awaited the arrival of the last train from San Francisco. Formus stepped off the train and while Schmidt was telling him that the police were on his trail he was placed under arrest.

There is little information in the hands of Chief of Police Hodgkins relative to the robbery in Los Angeles.

ARREST BANKRUPT GRAIN MERCHANTS

SAN FRANCISCO, January 14.—The bench warrants issued yesterday by Superior Judge Lawlor for the arrest of Jacob, Herman and Joshua Eppinger after their indictment by the Grand Jury, were served today on the three members of the bankrupt grain firm. They each gave bail in the sum of $12,000 and were immediately released from custody.

WARDEN MUST BE ON DECK

Compelled to Spend Three Hours in Prison
Each Day.

SAN QUENTIN, Jan. 14.—The State Board of Prison Directors met in regular monthly session at the San Quentin State Prison this morning. Directors Devin, Wilkins, Felton and Ray were present. Warden Tompkins brought up the question of the electricity now being supplied to the prison. He stated the mill had been shut down for sixty-five hours during the last six months because of no electrical power.

He also said that the power was so weak at times that only a portion of the machinery could be used.

A motion introduced by Director Felton to the effect that no bill be paid for light and power until the controversy is adjusted was unanimously carried.

Director Felton introduced a resolution requiring all the present employees at the prison and all future appointees to take an oath of allegiance to the United States and swear to perform their duties at the prison faithfully.

A resolution was also introduced requiring the Warden of San Quentin to spend three hours each day in the prison, one hour of which must be in the jute mill amongst the prisoners.

Both were carried. Warden Tompkins made a statement showing that the prison had saved $200 monthly by having repairs to the machinery made at the prison. The board went into executive session at noon.

RUSSIAN LOSSES

TOKIO, January 14.—The Japanese casualties in the fighting with the Cossack raiders at the old town of Newchwang, Niuchiatun and other places southwest of Liao Yang last Wednesday were one man killed and fifteen wounded. The Russian losses were over three hundred. The Japanese report that the supplies of war munitions stored at Newchwang and Niuchiatun were not damaged.

PASTOR WALKLEY TELLS STORY TO MEN OF HIS FLOCK.

Rev. Charles T. Walkley, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, is something of a joker in his own genial way. At the meeting of the Men's Club of St. Paul's, held in the guild rooms of the church Thursday evening, the rector told a good story which is well worth repeating. It goes something like this:

Jones and his wife were going to a ball and in honor of the occasion, Jones was wearing a brand-new, though rather tight fitting suit. As they came within a few doors of the place where the ball was being held, Jones in some manner stumbled and sat down with some violence on the sidewalk. An investigation proved that he had split his trousers. "I can't go to the ball now," he said. "Oh, yes you can," replied his wife. "I have set my heart on going to that ball and I am not going to be disappointed at the last minute. You come with me in the dressing-room and I will mend your trousers, and nobody will be the wiser."

In the dressing-room a little later, Jones divested himself of his trousers, and his wife sat down to mend them. Just then there was a knock at the door. "What shall I do?" Jones exclaimed, trying to wrap himself up in his coat tails.

"Do?" said his wife. "Why," seeing a door on the other side of the room, "you just step in that closet and I will see who it is."

She pushed Jones into the closet and shut the door, which, by the way, had a spring lock. The knocking continued on the other door, and as she started to open it, a loud pounding sounded on the closet door.

Bewildered, Mrs. Jones stood uncertain which door to open first. Before she had made up her mind she heard her husband call out:

"Mary, Mary, open the door quick, this is the ball-room!"

MORMONS TAKE TURN AT THE EVIDENCE.

Legislators Are Hearing Many Queer Things About the Laws of the Church.

WASHINGTON, January 14.—James E. Lynch, of Salt Lake, was the first witness today in the Smoot investigation. He is a Democrat and a non-Mormon.

Attorney Van Cott, for Senator Smoot, examined the witness concerning the statement that Angus M. Cannon, his brother-in-law, had said he witnessed the marriage of Abraham Cannon and Lillian Hamlin in 1896.

Mr. Lynch said he investigated the statement of Angus Cannon at the request of E. B. Critchlow and found that Angus Cannon was not in California in 1896, but the witness admitted that his brother-in-law had made the statement.

Chairman Burrows asked Mr. Lynch concerning the feeling of young Mormons on the question of polygamy. Witness said that they felt the practice must be "done away with," but that he had heard nothing of the "young Mormons making a protest to the heads of the church."

HE WAS FIRED.

H. M. Dougall, of Springfield, Utah, who explained that he was "fired" from the Mormon Church, was called to the stand. He is postmaster of his town of 3500 inhabitants. He could think of only five polygamists in Springfield and said there had been no polygamous marriages since 1890.

His expulsion from the church in 1874, he said, had not made a particle of difference in his business, even though a majority of his business came from Mormons.

As a Mormon he took the endowment first in 1862. He was about 26 years old then and was married at that time, which, he said, was the only time he had been married. About 150 went through with him.

Mr. Worthington read the oath of vengeance, given by certain witnesses and Mr. Dougall said the oath was to avenge the blood of the prophets or martyrs on "this generation" and not on "this nation" as had been testified.

Mr. Dougall said he had served in the Legislature and was elected in a Mormon county. As to his expulsion from the church he had nothing to say.

WOULD NOT ANSWER.

Chairman Burrows asked the witness to state the nature of the ceremony performed when he was married in the endowment house and Mr. Dougall replied:

"I do not believe I care to tell that, Senator."

"Was there a penalty attached if you revealed what took place?"

"Yes sir."

"What was that penalty?"

"I decline to state."

"Was it death?"

"I do not believe I care to answer any more questions on that subject."

Continuing, he said that one could not be married in the Temple until he had taken the endowments, but that other legal marriage ceremonies were performed outside. Plural marriages, he said, could not be performed outside of the Temple of the Church.

"You were expelled thirty years ago, you say?" asked the chairman.

"Yes sir."

KEEPS HIS OATH.

"And you feel that after these years separated from the church your obligations are still binding on you?"

"Yes sir. I have conscientious scruples against divulging anything that I swore not to reveal."

On direct examination the witness told Mr. Worthington that he had taken obligations in secret society and he had the same scruples against divulging such obligations.

A. A. Noon of Provo, a Republican justice of the peace and a former Mormon, who voluntarily withdrew from the church in 1870, testified that young Mormons are opposed to polygamy, and also that Mormons are not taking any interest in politics as a church. He has been a candidate for office biennially since 1882, and since 1896 has defeated Mormon candidates. He endorsed Senator Smoot highly and was not surprised, he said, at his election as Senator.

TOOK ENDOWMENTS.

After his marriage Mr. Noon said he took the endowments. Mr. Worthington asked him if he took an oath to avenge the blood of the prophets "on this nation."

Witness said he was perfectly certain that nothing in the obligation taken expressed hostility to the nation or to this Government. He said it was taken from the scriptures, Revelations, chapter 8, verses 9 and 10. There was nothing in it, he said, of disloyalty to the United States. He said it had been forty years since he took the endowments and he could not remember the exact language, as it did not particularly impress him.

On cross-examination, Mr. Noon said he did not concern himself with polygamy and was unable to state who were polygamists in Provo. Many names were read to him and he identified them by common repute as living in polygamy.

THE CEREMONY.

Chairman Burrows asked Mr. Noon also in regard to the endowment ceremony, and he declined to state its nature. He would not say whether there was a change in wearing apparel, whether there was a severe penalty attached to revealing what had taken place or anything connected with the obligations.

"What would you say as to whether the penalty was to have the tongue torn out or the vitals cut out of the body?" asked Chairman Burrows.

"I do not feel that I could answer," Mr. Noon replied.

Mr. Dougall was recalled and asked whether their assent, whether there was anything in his endowment oath incompatible with his allegiance to his State and the nation. He replied that there was nothing.

Mr. Noon was recalled and answered the same question in the negative. Chairman Burrows again recalled Mr. Dougall, and several Senators wanted to know why he would state a part of the ceremony and would not state it all.

VENGEANCE.

He said he could not remember the exact words of the obligation of vengeance, but was sure it was not hostile to the government, and that it was exclusively religious and not related in any manner to civil or governmental affairs.

William Hatfield of Salt Lake, who was sworn in a Mormon until he was twenty-two years of age, and then drifted away from the church. He testified that polygamy was decreasing and that he had known of no plural marriages since 1890.

Mr. Hatfield took the endowments at the time he was married. He was twenty-one years old then and left the church about a year later. Soon after he was sworn the committee took a recess.

At the afternoon session James H. Brady, chairman of the Republican State Committee of Idaho, was recalled by Mr. the anti-Mormon campaign conducted by the Democrats last autumn. Mr. Brady said he visited Boise during the present month and consulted Republican members of the Legislature concerning the passage of laws against unlawful cohabitation. He said a bill had since been introduced in the Legislature, based on the prohibition in the Edmunds law. Mr. Brady said he believed the laws were introduced in good faith.

"Then," said Mr. Taylor, "you were in error when you said the other day the people are opposed to prosecuting old polygamists, such as William Budge and others of his class?"

THE CAMPAIGN.

"No, I believe I was correct, but we are going to pass the laws and put it up to Senator Dubois to prosecute these polygamists. We knew during the campaign that he would not do it. I do not believe he will do it now. While I will not personally prosecute any of these old polygamists, I would not lay a straw in the way of Senator Dubois prosecuting them. My position is that if Senator Dubois and his friends will not prosecute these cases, they cannot expect other good citizens to do so."

It was brought out that the Idaho Legislature had just passed an anti-polygamy law and the witness said he had advocated its passage for the sole reason that he wanted to "put it up to Senator Dubois to prosecute the old polygamists if he meant all he said during the campaign."

THE MORMONS.

"While you were infaming the Mormons against my position?" asked Senator Dubois, "were you not also assuring the Gentiles that the Republicans would pass the laws I was demanding?"

"Yes, I told them that while the Democrats were passing resolutions we would pass laws," replied Mr. Brady.

William Hatfield who was on the stand at the morning session, then resumed his testimony. He said that when he went through the endowment house he had taken no oath that would be in conflict with his duties as a citizen of the State or nation.

John P. Meakin of Salt Lake City, a dramatic reader and lecturer, testified that he had been born into the Mormon Church, but broke away from the church in 1873 because he did not believe in polygamy. He declared polygamy to be "almost a thing of the past."

Mr. Meakin said he went through the endowment house when he was 18 years old. He said there were no obligations administered that would interfere with his allegiance to his State or the National Government.

Robert T. Burton Jr., of Salt Lake City, a son of a Mormon family, but not himself a Mormon, testified that Mr. Critchlow had told him that he wouldn't believe Angus M. Cannon Jr. under oath.

A COLLOQUY.

The opposing counsel engaged in a colloquy concerning the propriety of putting on the stand a witness for the sole purpose of discrediting Mr. Critchlow, but the chair permitted the examination to continue. It developed that Mr. Critchlow's statement to Mr. Burton was made since Mr. Critchlow sent Mr. Cannon to Washington as a witness, who said he saw President Joseph F. Smith unite Abraham Cannon and Lillian Hamlin in marriage.

Samuel N. Cole of Corinne, Utah, a banker and treasurer of Box Elder county, was the next witness. He is a Gentile and testified that he ran a little ahead of his ticket in spite of the fact that his opponent for treasurer was a Mormon.

Margaret Smith Writes to Oakland Officials to Explain Absence.

Margaret Smith, who has more lives than two cats, if her nineteen attempts at suicide be taken into consideration, is in care of the jailers of San Francisco County. She writes to the officials of the City Hall to explain her absence. She has been arrested probably three hundred times for drunkenness. Fearing her enforced absence of three months might be taken seriously she wrote a long letter to her official friends here, which is in part as follows:

"I am working in a hotel (county jail) near San Mateo. I have worked here before as head cook, head laundress, and was once belle of the house. I will be unable to see my Oakland friends as my contract does not expire until some time in March. I asked for a jury trial and Judge Fritz told me I could either take three months or wait six months for a jury trial. I am accused of being drunk in a public place. Some people do not know sickness from that."

JAPANESE ARE DRIVE OUT RUSSIAN RAIDERS

VIGILANT. NAVAL OFFICERS EXERCISE EXTRAORDINARY CAUTION IN WAR.

GENERAL KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, via Fusan, January 14.—A body of Russian cavalry made a raid south this week for the purpose of harassing the Japanese lines of communication.

They occupied the Old Town of Newchwang, whose population is entirely Chinese.

On Thursday Japanese infantry attacked the Russians and drove them from the town.

They left fifty dead. One Japanese was killed.

The raiders, who crossed the Liao river into neutral territory, are supposed to number about 3000 men. There was some interruption of railroad communication with the south yesterday as a result of the raid, but the damage was immediately repaired.

NIGHT VISIT TO WINE COMPANY'S PLACE IS EXPENSIVE.

Edward Howitt, accused of entering the Alden Wine Company with burglarious intent, was sentenced to six months in the City Prison this morning by Police Judge Samuels on a charge of petty larceny. This charge was substituted for the graver one.

After entering the place Howitt drank so much that he fell asleep and was arrested by Patrolman Smith.

COAL MINERS TO MEET

WILL OPEN CONVENTION IN INDIANAPOLIS NEXT WEEK.

INDIANAPOLIS, January 14.—Miners of bituminous and anthracite coal are arriving for their annual convention, which will begin Monday. The national tellers will be able to report Monday the election of a President, Mitchell, Vice President Lewis and Secretary Wilson.

It is anticipated that precautionary preparations for another great struggle between the anthracite coal operators and the United Mine Workers will be laid. The convention will devote a part of its time to planning for a war footing for the organization so that it will be able to meet any demands of the anthracite operators on April 1, 1906.

[The miners want recognition of the union; a lease contract, such as exists in the bituminous districts, covering at least a year, and the adoption of the check system by the anthracite companies, by which they as the bituminous operators now do, will collect the union dues at the mine. The plans to put the organization on a war footing provide for a full $1,000,000 treasury fund.]

HEAVY RAIN IS REPORTED

SACRAMENTO VALLEY RECEIVES A THOROUGH DRENCHING.

SACRAMENTO, January 14.—There was a general rainfall throughout the Sacramento valley and the foothills yesterday and last night.

Many places report a precipitation of more than one inch, while the fall at Redding during the 24 hours ending 7 o'clock this morning, reached over three inches.

One inch of snow fell at Emigrant Gap in the mountains.

It is expected that the heavy fall of rain in the upper part of the valley will cause a considerable rise in the Sacramento river.

ROSSEAU MAY BE THE MAN

POLICE OF NEW YORK SUSPECT HIM OF ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP UMBRIA.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Inspector McCuskey of the Detective Bureau said today that a picture of Gessler Rousseau, the man arrested in Philadelphia yesterday, carrying an infernal machine, was an excellent likeness of the man wanted by the police department for attempting to blow up the Cunard liner Umbria in May, 1903.

The Umbria suspect, just prior to the attempt to blow up the liner, boarded with a woman named Mrs. Murray and Inspector McCuskey said to-day that Mrs. Murray had identified the photograph of the man under arrest at Philadelphia as a likeness of her former boarder.

REFUSES TO TALK.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—Gessler Rousseau refuses to answer any questions with reference to any attempt to blow up the steamship Umbria or the Statue of Frederick the Great. The police here have questioned Rousseau persistently with reference to the Umbria affair and also the attempted destruction of the battleship Connecticut at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, but the prisoner maintains a sly, evasive silence. Rousseau is awaiting further hearing.

MILD WINTER

GENERAL KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS, January 14, via Fusan.—The present winter has been phenomenally mild for this section of Manchuria, the weather of the past fortnight being unprecedented in the memory of the oldest Chinese. The temperature during the day has sometimes risen to 50 degrees Fahrenheit, and it is seldom below 50 degrees. The nights are correspondingly warm. The ice on the streams has become very soft.

MAY SAVE SHIPS

NEW YORK, January 14.—With the removal of a considerable quantity of her cargo, the steamer Indus, aground on Fire Island to-day rested on an almost even keel. The wreckers still believed there was a chance to save her if the weather continued favorable.

NEGLECT WOUNDED

CHE FOO, January 14 (10 p. m.).—Japanese who visited Port Arthur January 10 say that the Russian wounded were in a terrible state, owing to neglect, which could not be avoided when the Japanese entered Port Arthur. Everything possible, they say, is now being done for their relief.

VISITED NOGI

TOKIO, January 14.—The Japanese transport Manchui, with ten naval attaches, four peers, seventeen members of the House of Representatives and one Japanese lieutenant commander, who had visited General Nogi and inspected Port Arthur, returned here today. The party also went by train to Manchuria and visited Field Marshal Oyama.

C. LAWTON HELD FOR $2,500 BAIL

NEW YORK, January 14.—C. PARIS, January 14.—The officials here say that the Japanese criticism of France relative to the stay of the Russian Second Pacific squadron at Madagascar has no importance as the squadron is no longer in French waters.

FAVORABLE REPORT AUTHORIZED

WASHINGTON, January 14.—The House Committee on Indian Affairs today authorized a favorable report on the bill to ratify and amend an agreement with the Indians on the Shoshone or Wind River Indian reservation, in Wyoming, which will open to settlement about 1,400,000 acres of land.

TWO CLEVER BLIND MEN.

A wonderful couple are the Barro brothers, who live on Broad street, Atlanta. Although they are both totally blind and have been so afflicted since birth, they are well educated and well read. They are about 20 and 23 years of age respectively. They go arm in arm wherever they want to go, without the aid of a guide or even a walking cane. They are familiar with the town and go about the streets, dodging teams and street cars, and never stumble against their fellow-pedestrians. They frequently visit the postoffice and can go to any store in town if given ordinary directions for finding it. They are cheerful and gay more out of life than many who are more fortunate.—Atlanta Constitution.

CONFESES TO MURDERING BREWER

MUSKOGEE, I. T., January 14.—George Duncan, aged 18, an Indian boy, arrested here on the charge of murdering John Brewer, a farmer, near Melvin, has made a full confession. He lived with the Brewers and said he was in love with Mrs. Brewer, although she is old enough to be his mother. Mrs. Brewer has also been arrested as an accomplice. She tried to shield the boy, saying "Some man called Brewer to the door and shot him."

COST OF WAR KEPT IN DARK

ST. PETERSBURG, January 14.—The comments on the budget are generally satisfactory, though it leaves the whole question of estimated cost for the war for the coming year in the dark, Russia preferring not to show her hand in this respect.

EARL FOUND DEAD

CANNES, France, January 14.—The Earl of Cairns was found dead in bed at the Union Club here to-day. His death is attributed to heart disease. The Earl, when Viscount Garmoyne, was the defendant in a breach of promise case and had to pay Miss Fortescue, the actress, $50,000. He was born in 1863, and was not married.

GRANT INJUNCTION TO S. P. COMPANY

SAN JOSE, January 14.—The Southern Pacific Company was granted today by Judge Welch a temporary injunction restraining the Santa Clara and Palo Alto Interurban Company from building its track across the track of the plaintiff at a point between Mayfield and Palo Alto. The plaintiff's attorneys say that their client has no desire to obstruct the road, but simply wish to compel the Interurban people to comply strictly with the law governing such cases.

DRAINAGE TUNNEL AT CRIPPLE CREEK

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., January 14.—At a meeting here today it was decided by the Cripple Creek mine-owners to build a new drainage tunnel for the benefit of the Cripple Creek mines. It will be 16,000 feet in length, will reach to a depth of 1,000 feet, and will cost $500,000.

THE INFERENCE.

It was on a crowded street car. The conductor gave two jerks at the bell rope. As he did so, a shrill voice from the rear of the car yelled: "Wait till I get my clothes on!" The men on the platform turned as one man and looked. The women turned as one woman and looked—the other way.

But there was no cause for shock. The washerwoman's little boy was endeavoring to get his big basket on the back platform.—Exchange.

HOWARD'S STATEMENT IS ENDORSED BY IRISH. PULPIT TOPICS FOR SUNDAY.

Value of Contra Costa Plant Should Be Determined By a Third Party.

Editor TRIBUNE: I have read with great interest Mr. John L. Howard's statement on the water question, which is admirable in its tone and valuable for the information it contains. I have also read Mr. Chamberlain's rejoinder. Epithet and invective, prejudice and passion settle nothing. Let us dismiss them. I believe the majority of our business men and taxpayers want the field cleared of competition before embarking in municipal water works. Mr. Howard's statement has made the desirability of this so clear that no answer is made to it because none is possible. The question is, Why is this not done? Why does not the Council or the Contra Costa Company name a figure for the existing water plant? The reason is that the legal relation of the Council and the Water Company makes it impossible that either shall name a figure. The Council has taken its position on the value of the Contra Costa plant for the purpose of fixing rates.

No reasonable man expects the company will sell at that valuation, and the Council would condemn itself by naming a higher valuation. On the other hand, if the Contra Costa Company accept that valuation it is bound by it in the future fixing of rates. It will be useless for it to name a higher valuation, for the Council cannot in its position accept it and thus confess injustice in the water rates it is trying to establish by litigation.

No one party is stopped from naming a valuation which the other will accept. That being the position of the two parties to the issue, they are both entitled to the services of a third party to relieve them in a situation that is afflicting to both. Mr. Howard's former plan of fixing a valuation by arbitration offered the relief. The Contra Costa Company's offer to submit to condemnation proceedings, cleared of all technicalities, also offered relief.

The Council and the Contra Costa Company are both justified in refraining from fixing a valuation, and because their position is not understood we seem to be crushing headlong into a mistake.

I may be excused for saying that my personal relations to Mr. Dingee's company and my known position on municipal trading contribute somewhat to my impartiality of view.

Let a third party settle the question of value and save the making of a mistake.

Very truly, JOHN P. IRISH.

The First Dollar is Free

I will gladly give any sick one a full dollar's worth of my remedy to test. I ask no deposit—no promise. There is nothing to pay, either now or later. The dollar bottle is free. I want no references—no security. The poor have the same opportunity as the rich. The very sick, the slightly ill, invalids of years, and men and women whose only trouble is an occasional "dull day"—to cure and all I say "Merely write and ask." I will send you an order on your druggist. He will give you free, the full dollar package. My offer is as broad as humanity itself. For sickened, knows no distinction in its ravages. And the restless patient on a downy couch is no more welcome than the wasting sufferer who frets through the long hours in a dismal hotel. I want EVERYONE, EVERYWHERE to test my remedy. There is no mystery—no miracle. I can explain my treatment to you as easily as I can tell you why cold freezes water and why heat melts ice. Nor do I claim a discovery. For every detail of my treatment is based on truths so fundamental that none can deny them. And every ingredient of my medicine is as old as the hills to become "new." I simply applied the truths and combined the ingredients into a remedy that is practically certain. The paragraphs below will show you the reason why. But my years of patient experiment will avail you nothing if you do not accept my offer. For facts and reason and even belief will not cure. Only the remedy can do that. In eighty thousand communities—more than a million homes—Dr. Shoop's Restorative is known. There are those all around you—your friends and neighbors, perhaps—whose suffering it has relieved. There is not a physician anywhere who dares tell you I am wrong in the new medical principles which I apply. And for six solid years my remedy has stood the severest test a medicine was ever put to. I have said it is free—and it has never failed where there was a possible chance for it to succeed. But this mountain of evidence is of no avail to those who shut their eyes and close away in doubt. For doubt is harder to overcome than disease. I cannot cure those who lack the faith to try. So now I have made this offer. I disregard the evidence. I lay aside the fact that mine is the largest medical practice in the world, and come to you as a stranger. I ask you to believe not one word that I say till you have proven it for yourself. I offer to give you outright a full dollar's worth of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. No one else has ever tried so hard to remove every possible excuse for doubt. It is the utmost my unbounded confidence can suggest. It's open and frank and fair. It is the supreme test of my limitless belief.

Inside Nerves!

Only one out of every 95 has perfect health. Of the 94 sick ones, some are bed-ridden, some are half sick, and some are only dull and listless. But most of the sickness comes from a common cause. The nerves are weak. Not the nerves you ordinarily think about—not the nerves that govern your movements and your thoughts.

But the nerves that, unguided and unknown, might at any day, keep your heart in motion—control your digestive apparatus—regulate your liver—operate your kidneys.

These are the nerves that wear out and break down.

It does no good to treat the ailing organ—the irregular heart—the disordered liver—the rebellious stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to be blamed. But go back to the nerves that control them. There you will find the seat of the trouble.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge to the relief of the sufferer. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organs or weaken the path—it does go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it and makes it well.

For Stomach Troubles
The stomach is controlled by a delicate nerve called the solar plexus. The solar plexus is a blow over the stomach—a solar plexus blow—means a sure knock-out. For this nerve is ten times as sensitive as the pupil of your eye. Set the solar plexus in only one of the centers of the great inside nerve—the power nerve. It is one of the most delicate nerves in the body. Practically all stomach trouble is nerve trouble—inside nerve trouble—solar plexus trouble. Dr. Shoop's Restorative strengthens the inside nerve—the solar plexus—and the stomach trouble disappears.

For Kidney Troubles
The kidneys are the blood filters. They are operated solely by the solar plexus. The branch which operates them and regulates them is called the renal plexus. When the renal plexus is weak or irregular, the kidneys become clogged with the very poisons they should throw off. No kidney treatment can clean them out or cure them until after the kidneys are brought back to normal. To cure kidney trouble—restore the nerve to normal. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will restore the renal plexus, just as it restores the solar plexus and the renal plexus. For all are equal parts of the great inside nerve system—the power nerves—the master nerves.

For Heart Trouble
Your heart beats more than ten thousand times a day, and every heart beat is an impulse of the inside nerve branch called the cardiac plexus. The heart is a muscle, but it is the nerve that makes the muscle do the work. An irregular or weak heart is, almost in every instance, the direct result of a weak inside nerve. To cure heart trouble—restore the nerve to normal. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will restore the cardiac plexus, just as it restores the solar plexus and the renal plexus. For all are equal parts of the great inside nerve system—the power nerves—the master nerves.

For Womanly Troubles
Almost all of the troubles that are peculiar to woman are caused by weakness of the inside nerves. There is no need to doctor or dose an ailing organ when it depends alone for its supply of energy on the inside nerves. Inside nerve weakness, if not attended to, will spread. The common trouble for the inside nerve is "Sympathetic Nervousness." Each center is in close sympathy with the other, and when one becomes deranged, general weakness and derangement frequently ensue. Dr. Shoop's Restorative gently tones up the inside nerves and removes the cause of weakness, permanently and forever.

Your heart beats more than ten thousand times a day, and every heart beat is an impulse of the inside nerve branch called the cardiac plexus. The heart is a muscle, but it is the nerve that makes the muscle do the work. An irregular or weak heart is, almost in every instance, the direct result of a weak inside nerve. To cure heart trouble—restore the nerve to normal. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will restore the cardiac plexus, just as it restores the solar plexus and the renal plexus. For all are equal parts of the great inside nerve system—the power nerves—the master nerves.

For Womanly Troubles
Almost all of the troubles that are peculiar to woman are caused by weakness of the inside nerves. There is no need to doctor or dose an ailing organ when it depends alone for its supply of energy on the inside nerves. Inside nerve weakness, if not attended to, will spread. The common trouble for the inside nerve is "Sympathetic Nervousness." Each center is in close sympathy with the other, and when one becomes deranged, general weakness and derangement frequently ensue. Dr. Shoop's Restorative gently tones up the inside nerves and removes the cause of weakness, permanently and forever.

A Bond of Sympathy

The inside nerve system is plainly the most important system in the human body. Our life rests on the action of the vital organs. While they work we live. When they stop we die. While they perform their duties properly we are well. When they perform their duties poorly we are sick. And every one, depend upon the inside nerve system, for it not only regulates them—it operates and controls them.

The work of the inside nerves is not only the most important—it is the most laborious. For our other nerves are exerted only at will. We think and feel, and exercise only as we feel inclined, and when we are tired we rest. But the stomach, the heart, the liver, the kidneys, must constantly and continuously—day and night—fresh or tired, perform their necessary duties. We have no way of knowing Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organs or weaken the path—it does go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it and makes it well.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge to the relief of the sufferer. ## Mr. Flint's Frank Statement.

There is a frankness and a directness about Hon. Frank P. Flint's statements of policy both refreshing and invigorating. The new Senator does not mince words. He does not deal in ponderous platitudes or assume the solemn Delphic tone which so often conceals intention or covers a paucity of ideas. On the questions closely concerning the people of this State he expresses himself with a directness that is unmistakable. In view of his positive declarations, the criticisms made against his election fall to the ground pointless. What fault can be found with this statement:

"I am in favor of increasing the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission. I am opposed to the ownership of private car lines and railroad rebates, and will do all in my power to stop these evils. I stand with President Roosevelt on the trust question, and favor the increase of appropriations for the reclamation of arid lands. It is to be my endeavor to see that a just proportion of the appropriations for this purpose is expended in California."

Mr. Flint is right on transportation regulation, right on irrigation, right on the question of admitting Arizona, right on the tariff. What more does anybody want? He is a man of vigor and intellect, and his views are in full accord with public sentiment. His election was secured in the most above-board manner and entirely free from proceedings calculated to shock the moral sense or to raise a question of propriety. Under the circumstances the Legislature ought to be congratulated. The State certainly appears to have gained a Senator of the right sort.

The Baltic fleet is still hugging the coasts of the Dark Continent. It looks as if Togo would have to carry the war into Africa.

Nationality of Russian Immigrants

In a recent article Jane Addams of Chicago points out a popular error in regard to the nationality of the immigrants now coming to this country from Russia. Very few of them are really Russians. Nearly all of them are Poles, Jews, Finns, Lithuanians and inhabitants of the Baltic provinces of Teutonic descent. As a rule these people are better educated and thriftier than the Russians proper. Nearly all the Finns and Jews read and write, and there is more schooling among the Poles than among Russians. While these elements are diverse in race and religion, they are united in hating the political system of Russia and most of them are bitterly hostile to the Russian Greek Church which is the bulwark of Moscovite absolutism. Many Slavonians are coming to America, but the great majority of them come from Hungary and the Adriatic provinces of the Austrian Empire. The Austrian Slavs are Roman Catholics and are more intelligent and better educated than their Russian brethren. The Bohemians are also of Slavic stock, but they have become partially Germanized and have lost all affinity for the Slavs of Russia. Therefore the tide of Slavic immigration now pouring into the United States is not creating any appreciable pro-Russian sentiment.

The Sacramento Bee suggests that the portion of California lying north of Tehachapi, and which is usually designated by the Los Angeles press as "Northern California," be called "Superior California." Major California would be a better name. Minor California would accurately describe the section below Tehachapi.

Nevada City has experienced the severest blow in its history. The saloon-keepers have combined and raised the price of beer to ten cents a glass. We expect to see the editor of the Miner-Transcript resent the outrage in large leaded type.

John Sharp Williams' contention that General Miles has earned the right to draw two salaries is both pathetic and magnanimous. But why should Miles be permitted to draw one salary from the United States and another from the State of Massachusetts? Drawing two salaries is condemned by law and by public morals.

Russia's threat to treat China as a belligerent is a trifle humorous in view of the fact that she has all along been treating Chinese provinces as conquered territory. But perhaps the St. Petersburg War Office desires to invite intervention in order to save the humiliation of suing for peace.

The Real Mormon Issue.

Ex-Governor McConnell of Idaho has stirred up a popular storm in his State by asserting that the Mormons were as a rule more moral than their Gentile neighbors. He said they did not drink or gamble, but were industrious, thrifty and peaceable. He drew a contrast between the Gentile and Mormon members of the Legislature decidedly unfavorable to the former. There is much truth in what he said, but it does not touch the points in issue. Just now the Mormons are charged with voting solidly as they are directed by the priesthood, while the priesthood is charged with fostering and encouraging the practice of polygamy contrary to the laws of the land. It is admitted that polygamous marriages have been contracted since the Taylor "revelation" suspending the ordinance of plural marriage. It has been conclusively proven that there are men living in polygamy in Idaho, Wyoming and Arizona as well as in Utah. It has been demonstrated that no man can be elected to an important office in Utah without the sanction of the Mormon hierarchy which assumes to pass upon the fitness of all aspirants for office. Joseph F. Smith, head of the Mormon Church, boldly defended polygamy as a moral and divine institution before the Senate Committee. In view of these facts, the statement that the Mormons do not drink or gamble is immaterial and irrelevant. The Senate committee is now probing to ascertain whether or not it is true that the functions of free government have been superseded and usurped by a theocratic ring which is engaged in subverting the law.

The Panama Canal Commission.

The President has realized the truth of the old adage that too many cooks spoil the broth. In its short life the Panama Canal Commission has given abundant verification of it. It had scarcely organized before its members began to disagree with each other. They got at odds over the plans, and then the methods of procedure provoked differences of opinion. The disputants carried their grievances to the Secretary of War, from whom they went to the President. One of the Commissioners resigned because of radical disagreement with his colleagues. Still there is neither harmony nor agreement. So the President has finally taken the bull by the horns and will urge a complete reorganization of the Commission by act of Congress. His idea is to create a small executive board of three or five members, with its head for Minister to Panama. The engineers will be employed by the Commission instead of being members of it. This looks rational enough and Congress will doubtless accede to the President's wishes. Dissension only results in delay and confusion, and the President ardently desires the prompt adoption of definite plans and vigorous prosecution of them. In this respect, he voices the sentiment of the country, which is tired of delays and shilly-shallying over diverse plans. When the Commission was appointed the public generally understood that a lock canal was to be constructed, but suddenly it developed that some of the Commissioners wanted to revert to the old De Lesseps plan for a tidal canal, which would cost immensely more than the estimates presented to Congress and take many more years to complete. A wrangle over so fundamental a thing has naturally paralyzed operations and created confusion. Under the circumstances the proper way to resolve all doubts and delays is to place the work entirely under the control of the President and Secretary of War who can direct operations through an executive board.

CHIPS FROM OTHER BLOCKS

Missouri has another political scandal, involving a candidate for United States Senator. It is evident that Governor Folk is not to be given the opportunity to rest on his laurels.—Sacramento Union.

James J. Corbett announces that he will play "Hamlet." That is his privilege. But after finding a manager with a bank account he has next to find his audience.—Los Angeles Express.

A bill making it an offense punishable by fine to tip a waiter has been introduced in the Missouri Legislature. The waiters now have an opportunity to spend their fees in tipping the lobby.—New York World.

When Mark Twain moved away from California he was able to pack all his worldly goods in a cigar box. Now he has two or three fine houses in New York and the bronchitis.—Los Angeles Times.

The presidential salary of $50,000 may be "disgracefully small," as the New York World thinks it, but we have not heard of any statesman trying to dodge it.—Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.

Hotel Clerk—That depends entirely on Mrs. Chadwick.—Chicago Tribune.

He—So you are in the habit talking to yourself?
She—Yes. You see, I've got to tell somebody, and if I tell it to myself I'm sure that it won't get any further.—Detroit Free Press.

Mother—Oh, you bad boy! Dirty hands again! I'm afraid you're a hopeless case.
Tommy—(eagerly)—Oh, ma! does "hopeless" mean you're going to give up talkin' about it?—Philadelphia Press.

"Pa, what's forbidden fruit?"
"Oh, any old kind that's good."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"How did you get that black eye, Willie?"
"I got dat," replied Willie, disgustedly, "by waitin' to count ten when I was angry, like you told me to."—Houston Post.

Hints for the Ladies

The French dressmaker does not hesitate now to fashion entire dresses of the dainty pompadour ribbons and filmy chiffon or lace. The skirt is of the lace or chiffon with the bodice of the ribbon, and directoire coat tails or little peplum effects of lace or silk are essential touches. Another fancy is to trim diaphanous tulle and chiffon frocks with the dainty pompadour ribbons.

The old ivory fans carried by our great grandmothers have been revived, and they look quaintly pretty with the picturesque gowns of that period. Hand-painted fans are to be more popular than for some time past. Painted on silk, the fan lasts longer and is more serviceable and in every way more satisfactory than when the design is printed on paper, which even when the finest and most expensive variety, fades and tears in a distressingly short while.

Mrs. Debutante wears a visiting dress of old rose broadcloth. There is a plain skirt, quite full, with the redundant fullness laid in plaits about the hips in yoke effect. The fitted coat, half length, parts in front to display the snow-white rabbit fur waist-coat, visibly fastening by hooks on the left side beneath the coat. White rabbit skin is a charming set-off to a pink and white complexion. Only a youthful personage should attempt to wear it. A directoire collar and revers are of old-rose velvet two shades darker than that of the broadcloth. Four handsome jet buttons, dollar size, are spaced along the jacket front, near the edges, one above another. Leg of mutton sleeves accompany this coat.

By no means a medium of warming the hands but a separate detail of the full-dress opera costume is the opera muff. It is usually of puffed tulle or shirred white mousseline de sole, or possibly of snowy lace. It is very light and dainty and is suspended from the shoulders by means of a slender gilded chain or the narrowest and "babiest" of "baby" ribbon. The opera muff is a treasure trove for the self-conscious debutante who does not know what to do with her hands. No matter what color your evening gown may be—black, white, rose color, yellow or blue—the little muff should be pure white by preference. A gathered tulle muff, has the bouillonne fullness compressed by satin ribbons, which encircle it twice, each one mounting a little bouquet of very small roses in pink or white. A cascade effect is seen in the crepe lisse decoration upon a white lace muff of bag shape.

The most charming old-fashioned poke bonnets (the 1830 shapes) are shown for children. They are for the most part done in all white, but pale blue and dainty pink shades are also shown. The trimmings consist of silk drawn cords, folded ribbons, fluted laces and ostrich tips. Nothing can be more picturesque and lovely than a little girl dimpling and smiling in one of these quaint bonnets.

Splendid displays are made in the best shapes of white waists of fine mull, crepe de chine, peau de sole, louisine and chiffon and all have some sort of fancy yoke, or one simulated, of lace or silk embroidery, shirtings, tucks and dainty handwork. The sleeves are very full from shoulder to elbow, with deep, close-fitting cuffs elaborately trimmed. These elegant waists are in separate boxes and the price begins at $60 and soars upward. But, of course, the material can be bought and made up after the smartest models for far less outlay.

Somewhere.
(From "The Book of the Royal Blue.")
Somewhere the roses are brave and red;
And apple blossoms are sweet and spread
A wistful perfume that scents the day
And clings to zephyrs that croon away
When night comes slowly and bids they stay.
A wondrous fragrance the blossoms bear—
And wouldn't you like to be there?

Somewhere the meadows are stretching green,
As clear as jewels and soft and clean,
With dandelions in spangled show
That nod and beckon when breezes blow,
Somewhere the meadows—But don't you know
The tone and tang of the bracing air?
And wouldn't you like to be there?

Somewhere there reaches a country road,
With crickets chanting a twilight ode;
And bending branches to paint a shade
Where moonbeams glimmer and gleam and fade,
And will-o'-the-wisps in the distance wade,
Somewhere the fireflies flash and flare
And wouldn't you like to be there?

Somewhere—you know it; O, who but holds
A memory that his heart enfolds—
A memory of the leaning trees
And soothing song of the honeybees
And all of the boy-day melodies!
Somewhere you lived in it all—some-where—
And wouldn't you like to be there?

PRESIDENT IS EASY TO SEE.
Mr. Roosevelt is the most accessible President that has occupied the White House in many years. A large amount of time in the aggregate is given by him each week in greeting people who call at his office, not on any business, but merely to shake his hand and pay their respects. In fact, Senators and Representatives who have been delayed in getting to the President when they had business to consult him about have often growled at this habit of his of seeing all who call upon him unless it is utterly impossible for him to do so. But President Roosevelt has never been able to rid himself of the idea that he is the President of the people, and that when they call to see him it is not only a courtesy that he should extend, but a duty for him to meet them, if he can, and as usually can. It is customary when a visitor comes to Washington with a desire to pay his

REWARD FOR THE SPEAKER.

He May Be Appointed to a Judgeship in Philippines.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Rumors concerning the patronage plans of Senator-elect Frank P. Flint are frequently heard by the legislators. Flint, in a number of interviews from Sacramento, intimated that he would consider all sections equally in the matter of appointments, but it is only natural to assume that he will show special gratitude toward those men and communities that were most vitally instrumental in electing him.

What plan may be waiting for Speaker Prescott is a subject of considerable conjecture. The first story that ran the rounds was that, if he desired the place, he could have the chief deputyship in the United States Attorney's office at Los Angeles when the change takes place.

Oscar Lawler, of course, is expected to be head of that office. Now, however, a report is abroad that Flint wants to appoint Prescott to one of the two Federal Judgeships in the Philippines. Prescott served as an army officer in the Philippines and knows all about the country. It is said there will be a vacancy in August.

So far as the Speaker is personally concerned, he says that he has not asked for any reward.

I don't know whether Mr. Flint will want to appoint me to any office or not, said Speaker Prescott to-day. "I do not know whether I would want any place. I supported Mr. Flint because I thought it was best for my district that I should do so. I never asked for any personal reward and I have no idea what the future may hold for me. I am more interested now in my work here in the Assembly."

MRS. S. HUFF IS SINKING.

WELL KNOWN BANKER'S WIFE PROBABLY WILL NOT LIVE THROUGH NIGHT.

SAN LEANDRO, January 13.—Mrs. S. Huff, wife of Socrates Huff, president of the Bank of San Leandro, and one of the best known women in Alameda county, is critically ill at her home on Estudillo avenue, and is not expected to live through the night.

Mrs. Huff has been in a comatose condition since last night.

Dr. K. B. Smith, the attending physician, has no hopes for her recovery.

WILL PRESERVE RUINS.

WASHINGTON, January 13.—The House Committee on Public Lands authorized a favorable report on the bill providing for the preservation of historic and pre-historic ruins and monuments, archaeological objects and other antiquities on public lands. The bill provides for the withdrawal of public lands to carry out its objects.

Favorable reports also were authorized on the two bills providing for the creation of two national parks, one in Colorado to preserve the Cliff Dwellers' ruins at Mesa Verde, and one at Pajarito, N. M., for the preservation of the Cliff Dwellers' ruins.

HANGED FOR THE CRIME OF MURDER.

VANCOUVER, January 13.—Joshua Bell, colored, was hanged today in the county jail at Kamloops, B. C., for the murder of Annie Allan, colored, at Greenwood, B. C., on August 12. He stabbed her repeatedly because she had refused to live with him.

CARTER STILL LEADS IN RACE.

HELENA, Mont., January 13.—Two ballots were taken for a United States Senator today without result. The first ballot: Carter 40, Mandle 3, Dixon 5, White 4, Conrad 9, Frank 10, Martin McCommiss 1. Walsh, 10, Associate Justice Holloway 2. John McCommiss 1, the last two getting the Fusion vote. Total, 95; necessary to choose, 48.

Second ballot—Carter 40, Mandle 3, White 4, Dixon 5, J. J. McFlattin 13, Conrad 11, Walsh 10, Frank 10, Martin McCommiss 1, Holloway 1, Charles Dempster 1.

ROOM THIEF STEALS VALUABLE JEWELRY.

F. S. Monroe, a traveling salesman residing at the Hotel Touraine, reported to the police this morning that some one had entered his apartments yesterday during the absence of his wife and himself and stolen a card case, a ladies' gold watch, a gold chain, a gold sunburst and a diamond stick pin.

Thus far the detectives have been unable to obtain a clue to the thief.

James J. Keeney, aged forty years, died last night at 856 Washington street. He was an Odd Fellow and had been ill for several months. Little is known of his past. He will be buried by the order to which he belongs.

MILLIONS MADE IN THE DEAL.

Stockholder Asks For a Judgment For $2,990,000.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 13.—Sensational charges were made against the promoters of the Miami and Erie Canal Transportation Company in a cross-petition filed in the common police court to-day by Attorney Johnson of this city.

It is alleged that the fourteen men who promoted the company deliberately entered into a conspiracy to cheat and defraud those who later purchased the stocks and bonds of the company.

It is declared that the promoters issued to themselves stock of the company with a face value of $2,990,000 and bonds for $15,000 and that they cleared fully $140,000 in cash from deals and transfers early in the history of the company.

Johnson further declares that the fourteen men are solvent and liable for the full amount of the stock that they transferred to themselves.

He asks the court that judgment for $2,990,000 be rendered against them and that the promoters be required to liquidate the judgment forthwith, so that the indebtedness of the company can be paid off.

Johnson says that he holds fifty shares of the stock of the company.

STOLE TOOLS AND SOLD THEM.

Eugene Legros, a young Bulgarian, who has been employed as a gardener by Isaac Regua, was arrested today by Detective Shorey on a charge preferred by Brigadier General Long, Mr. Regua's son-in-law.

According to the police the young man has been in the habit of adding to his income by stealing tools and implements and selling them in the second-hand stores in this city and in San Francisco. Among the things missed are a bicycle, carpenter tools and other implements.

Legros was arrested in San Francisco.

INDICTMENTS ARE COMING.

PORTLAND, Ore., January 13.—The Federal Grand Jury adjourned today until Monday. No indictments were returned today but it is reported that indictments against certain persons high in the government's council will be returned early next week.

STEAMER ARGO ON SPIT.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 13.—The steamer Argo was anchored on the south spit of San Francisco yesterday after being laid up and fast aground for fifteen hours. Captain Robert Dunham finally succeeded in getting his vessel off under her own steam.

TRIED TO KILL HERSELF.

Susan J. Woodford, an old woman, 79 years of age, is detained at the insane ward at the Receiving Hospital charged by her daughter-in-law with trying to beat her brains out by butting her head against the wall. It is stated that she was caused to do this by trouble in which her son is involved in San Francisco.

MRS. HALEY IS NOT KNOWN.

SAN JOSE, Cal., January 13.—Mrs. Charles Haley, who will be examined at Tacoma for insanity, is in no way related to any of the Haley families in this city, all of whom are well known here. No clue as to her identity can be discovered here.

JAMES YEOMANS IS CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Senate committee on Interstate Commerce agreed to report favorably the nomination of James D. Yeomans for interstate commerce commissioner.

SAN JOSE, Cal., January 13.—Three of the gamblers arrested in a recent raid on two social clubs here appeared in court this morning and gave $250 bail each for their appearance for arraignment. Warrants are out for four others.

INDIAN POLICE PENSIONS.

Bill is Discussed By Senators in Congress.

WASHINGTON, January 13.—In the Senate today in connection with the consideration of the bill granting a pension to the families of the Indian Police who were killed in 1890 in the capture of Sitting Bull, Mr. Tillman made the claim that the Indian Police are on the same footing as the Philippine constabulary. He said that he had made an effort to get a pension for the family of a South Carolina man who was a member of the Philippine force and who was killed while on duty there. He contended that there had been discrimination because his constituents were from the South, but Mr. McCumber, in charge of the bill, said such was not the case.

The Senator sees it that way; he does not want to see it any other way," said Mr. Tillman.

Mr. McCumber protested that he was willing to be guided by the facts to which Mr. Tillman responded that he "disputed the Senator's interpretation of the facts."

After further debate the bill was passed over.

Consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was then resumed.

The chair sustained Mr. Berry's point of order against the amendment increasing the salaries of civil service commissioners and the bill was passed.

The Statehood bill was then considered.

Mr. Beveridge endeavored to have a date fixed for a vote on the bill, but Mr. Gorman replied that owing to the absence of many Senators it would be impossible to assent to that request.

Mr. Gorman added that there is no disposition to delay action on the disposition of the Statehood bill.

Mr. Beveridge did not press his point. The Statehood bill was temporarily laid aside and the Senate entered upon the consideration of the Senate calendar.

MORE BILLS IN ASSEMBLY.

SACRAMENTO, January 13.—Bills were introduced in the Assembly this morning as follows:

By Cleveland—Making it a misdemeanor for any person, other than a licensed physician, to furnish any person medicine or drugs without a prescription.

By McKenny—Forty-four bills designed to carry out the recommendations of the committee on reform in San Quentin and Folsom prisons.

By Drew—Nineteen bills codifying and eliminating old laws that have been repealed but still encumber the statutes.

By Coghlan—A bill designed to abolish trading stamp laws on the ground that such laws are a burden on the people and a source of revenue to the State.

By Gough—A resolution calling for a convention to consider the revision of the State constitution.

By Drew—Giving the Fish Commissioners the same powers as police officers in search warrant proceedings.

CLUNIE ACCOUNTS CORRECT.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 13.—An affidavit relative to the administration of the estate of the late T. J. Clunie has been filed in the Superior Court by A. G. Platt, expert accountant who certifies to the correctness of the inventory and accounts filed by B. G. White and E. A. Bridgford, executors of the will of the deceased.

LOOMIS OUT OF BANK.

NEW YORK, January 13.—Archibald G. Loomis, whose name has been frequently mentioned in connection with the booming of the Montreal and Boston Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company stock, by the failed firm of Munroe & Munroe, has tendered his resignation as vice president and director of the National City Bank of this city. It is understood that the resignation will be accepted.

A CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCarthy and family hereby express their appreciation and extend their thanks to those who by their kindness and sympathy aided in assuaging their grief in their late bereavement.

BRISTOW RESIGNS OFFICE.

He Takes a New Position Under the President.

WASHINGTON, January 13.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General James L. Bristow has resigned, to take effect on January 20.

Late this afternoon President Roosevelt issued an order that Mr. Bristow should be appointed special commissioner to visit the ports on the Atlantic coast of the United States, the Pacific coast and the Isthmus of Panama for the purpose of examining into trade conditions with a view to facilitating the transportation trade across the isthmus, via the Panama railroad.

DENY GAMBLING CHARGE.

IDAHO LEGISLATURE OBJECTS TO STATEMENTS IN WASHINGTON.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 13.—The statements made by former Governor McConnell at Washington before the Senate Committee investigating the case of Senator Smoot have created a stir here. Mr. McConnell's statement relating to the gambling prohibitions of members of the Legislature being especially resented and to-day the following resolution was adopted by both branches of the State Legislature:

"Resolved, that we, the members of the Idaho Legislature, now in session, regardless of political belief or religious creed, denounce the statements as reported by the press of ex-Governor W. J. McConnell before the Senate investigating committee reflecting on the morals of the Idaho Legislature as unjust, uncalled for and untrue and to prevent the same from being wired to the chairman of the Senate Privilege and Elections Committee at Washington, D. C."

WOMAN PLEADS FOR OAKS.

Mrs. A. Williams, who resides near the De Fremery Park, is much perturbed relative to a report that the park is to be subdivided and sold for lots. She regrets very much that the natural beauty of the place, which was recently under bond to the city for park purposes, is to be sacrificed and believes that such a move will be an irreparable loss to the city from an aesthetic standpoint.

She has written a note to the Board of Public Works asking that body to do something to prevent the destruction of the oaks and natural beauty of the park being destroyed.

"I have wanted to live in Oakland for thirty-five years but I have now to ask where are the oaks from which the city derived its name. The beauty of the park makes me happy. When the oaks are gone once they will be gone forever. I try not to be a mediator but does this city realize that the oaks will never grow again?"

DEATH CALLS MRS. ANNA WACHS.

Mrs. Anna M. Wachs, wife of A. N. Wachs, a well known resident of this city, died last night at the family residence, 1614 Castro street.

She was a native of New York and was in her forty-ninth year when death overtook her. She was an estimable woman and her death will cause grief among a large circle of friends.

Besides a husband, she leaves four children, Dr. Martin Wachs of Hill, Hawaii; Harold Wachs, of William H. Hymann of Portland, and Lionel Wachs, of the date of the funeral has been set for next Sunday. There will be funeral services at the family residence after which the remains will be incinerated according to the wish of the deceased.

MUST ANSWER.

Judge Melvin this afternoon denied the demurrer of F. C. Havens, F. M. Smith, F. G. Woodward and W. H. Chickering to the suit brought by attorneys for Josephine E. Bruguiere to recover $30,000, alleged still to be due on the purchase price of the Sather tract, which she sold the defendants for $250,000. She alleges she has only been paid $225,000 and that $25,000 is still due her. The demurrer was overruled and the defendants given twenty days in which to answer.

ROWLAND SOLD PROPERTY.

George Rowland, who yesterday took a part in the tragedy in which his father killed his mother and then himself, sold his property at the southwest corner of Campbell and William streets to Manuel Baptista, a grocerman doing business at the corner of Third and Peralta streets.

The amount for which the property was sold is not stated, the nominal sum of $10 only being mentioned. The deed is dated as having been made yesterday, but was filed for record at the Recorder's office this afternoon by Baptista. Rowland's proper name, according to the deed, is Hubert G., but he is called George.

SUGAR ADVANCED.

NEW YORK, January 13.—All grades of refined sugar have been advanced 10 cents per 100 pounds.

ASK FOR POLICE OFFICERS.

West Oakland People Request Board For Better Protection.

The following communication relative to the inadequate policing of West Oakland will be presented to the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners this afternoon by Chief of Police Hodgkins:

"Oakland, Cal., Jan. 11, 1905.

"To the Honorable Board of Police and Fire Commissioners of the City of Oakland, Cal.—Gentlemen: Regarding the petition of many citizens representing business houses of West Oakland requesting another police officer be detailed to that district and referred to me for report, beg to report as follows:

"To police this large and rapidly growing city we have 66 members of the Police Department in all. This number is divided as follows: One chief, 2 captains, one sergeant, four detectives, one clerk, three prison keepers, three wagon officers, one bailiff for Police Court, two court officers—eighteen in all who are not performing patrol duty on the streets.

"Of the forty-eight men detailed for patrol service fourteen are detailed for that part of the city from Oak to Jefferson street, from the Water Front to Fourteenth street.

"The business district of the central part of the city being continually patrolled. Four men being on duty between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. Five men from 4 p. m. to 12 m., and five men from 12 m. to 8 a. m.

"During the day there is one patrol from Jefferson street to the western boundary of the city south of Thirteenth street to the water front. The patrolman at Seventh and Market streets going on duty at 10 a. m., and the patrolman at West Oakland going on duty at 12 noon.

"At Sixteenth Street Depot the patrolman goes on duty at 9 a. m. Thirteenth avenue and Twenty-third avenue districts during the day time by two patrolmen, their going on duty at 12 noon; being patrolled the same as the West Oakland district.

"One patrolman going on duty at 9 a. m. has a roving commission for the rest of the city.

"In view of the foregoing it is no wonder that numerous complaints are received of the depredations committed by vicious tramps and boys, of peddlers without a license and bogus solicitors and agents of all kinds and frequently of more serious crimes.

"Because of the fact that there are not enough men to properly patrol the city in the day time sufficient time is not devoted to many things that should receive more attention.

"The water front of the city is a constant source of worry for the police department; much of the enormous amount of property landed by vessels and railroads on our water front must necessarily be left for a time on wharves and in warehouses. This adds to the labor and responsibility of the police department and upon whom the blame rests when property is stolen or destroyed.

"The central part of the business district is continuously patrolled.

"The Seventh and Market district where we find it necessary to have a police officer in the forenoon is patrolled from 10 a. m. to 6 a. m. Sixteenth Street from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. and West Oakland and East Oakland from 12 m. to 6 a. m.

"The city is divided at night time into thirty-two separate patrol beats and these beats are patrolled when all the watch are on duty, but when sickness or vacations for a time deprive the city of the services of men it frequently happens that two or three beats are patrolled by one man.

"West Oakland should receive more police protection as also should East Oakland, North Oakland and the water front. I appreciate the need of a police officer at West Oakland between the hours of 6 a. m. and 12 m., and would like very much to have one on duty there at that time.

"East Oakland, North Oakland and the water front also needs better police protection during the day time, and at several points such as Fourteenth and Broadway and Twelfth and Broadway where street traffic is heavy during certain hours of the day there is much need for a police officer.

"But I consider it dangerous to uncover any night beat at this time of the year to send to West Oakland or any other district.

"Respectfully submitted,

"E. C. HODGKINS,

"Chief of Police."

The following is the petition signed by the residents of West Oakland:

"West Oakland, Cal., Dec. 18, 1904. To the Honorable the Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Oakland, California, Gentlemen—We, the undersigned, business men of West Oakland, respectfully present this petition to you, asking that you consider the advisability of placing an officer on duty in this vicinity between the hours of 6 a. m. and 12 m. daily. Respectfully submitted,

"E. O. Hahn, West Oakland Bank & Trust Co. J. L. Wines, J. H. Sears, J. Vincent, H. C. Poole, Ned Besch, J. W. Hahn, Vance & Dedrick, and thirty others."

DEATH OF MRS. CESCOTT.

Mrs. Angiolina Cescotti, a native of Switzerland, aged sixty years, died last night in the Providence Hospital. She had been a resident of Martinez for the last eighteen years. Her funeral will be held to-morrow.

JANUARY GAITIES.

With all the theaters in full blast, a number of luncheons, teas, bridge parties and dinners and a few large weddings, January is fulfilling its promise of being a gay month. Miss Jennie Blair and Mrs. Blair gave a large bridge whist party last Thursday in honor of Miss Ella Hotelling, who has just returned from over two years spent in Europe. Sixty guests were invited to play bridge and forty more were asked to join them at tea at half past four.

The affair was one of the most elaborate of the season and some beautiful frocks were worn, notably a lovely velvet Renaissance coat by Mrs. Fred C. Kohl.

There were fifteen tables at bridge and fifteen beautiful prizes. Later to the tea came the forty additional women, among them Mrs. Will Crocker in a beautiful black velvet walking gown trimmed with ermine.

Miss Blair looked pretty in a handsome black gown covered with jet sequins, with a white yoke and sleeves.

Mrs. Blair wore black and some magnificent diamonds. Mrs. Hotelling wore a beautiful Paris gown in which several varieties of real lace were artistically combined, the whole set off by touches of lavender and pink, in the real orchid shades. She wore rubies and diamonds as ornaments.

BRIDGE EMPHATICALLY THE FASHIONABLE GAME.

Nothing but bridge is played by the fashionables—of all the games it is so much the most worth while. I hear that Burlingame is tiring of the pastime, but that is because they have played so steadily there. Mrs. Gerritt Livingston Lansing has cards out for a large bridge whist party for Tuesday of week after next.

The bridge party will take place at St. Dunstan's where Mrs. Lansing makes her home. Mrs. Lansing is entertaining a great deal this winter. She has been hostess at several dinners and theater parties. Last Monday evening when the Ward-Kidder company opened at the Columbia, Mrs. Lansing had a party which occupied two boxes at the Columbia and afterward supped at the St. Francis where Miss Kidder joined them.

The St. Francis is very gay after the theater and the cafe is always full of supper parties. Besides Mrs. Lansing's party of twelve, Mrs. Eleanor Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin were supping there, as was a party composed of the William Cluffs, Miss Cluff and some gentlemen, the R. P. Schwerins and the H. McD. Spencers. There is always music and lights and the St. Francis being so near the theater district is popular for late suppers. A number of attractive luncheons were also given there during the week, among them one to debutantes by Mrs. Walter Martin.

THE DUTTON WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Dutton and Josiah Harvey is, so far, the most important wedding of the year. Trinity Church was full of a fashionable throng on Wednesday evening, and about a hundred intimate friends and relations met afterward at the Dutton home on Pacific avenue at the small wedding and reception supper which followed. The church was all in green with a touch of white at the altar while the house was done most effectively in pink roses. The bride who is a handsome girl with a good deal of style, was effectively dressed in Spanish lace over chiffon with a tulle veil and a beautiful shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor was in white and pink and the bridesmaids in pink. After a brief honeymoon journey Mr. and Mrs. Harvey will live at the Marie Antoinette, so popular with young married couples.

There were some beautiful presents and Miss Dutton was quite extensively entertained before her marriage. The engagement was announced some time ago, so most of the large affairs such as the Greenway, the Barbours, and the Henry Foster Dutton dinners took place before the holidays.

The only recent affair was a luncheon last week at which Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton, the wife of Miss Dutton's cousin, entertained the bridesmaids, the maid of honor and Miss May Colburn.

MR. HOTELLING'S JAPANESE LUNCHEON.

Mr. Richard Hotelling entertained about thirty guests yesterday at the Bohemian club, the breakfast being in honor of Miss Blanche Bates, the popular actress. The affair took its dominant note from Miss Bates' play, "The Darling of the Gods," and the table showed a curved Japanese bridge, while the famous Red Room adopted a Japanese dress for the occasion.

All the guests were requested to appear in Japanese costume, except the guest of honor, and the two members of her company who were bidden. Some of the costumes were old, beautiful and correct, while some were grotesques. One of the hits of the breakfast was a burlesque entitled "The Snarling of the Dogs," written by Mr. Hotelling and presented by Miss Bates and her leading man and woman. The whole affair was decidedly out of the ordinary and perfectly delightful.

MRS. CROCKER'S BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. Will Crocker entertained at a large evening bridge party last week. The prizes were beautiful.

ANOTHER COSTUME AFFAIR.

Costume affairs always seem particularly appropriate near Twelfth Night, which was the special masque night in England, and though Twelfth Night has passed a week we are still making merry in that way, which shows that we are nothing but children of larger growth after all, for children dearly love fancy dress and so do we all, I think.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Scott entertained a card club of which they are members at a "Hobo party," last Monday evening and all the guests were invited to appear in tramp costume.

Many were the fearful and wonderful costumes displayed, most of the guests entering thoroughly into the spirit of the affair and making themselves as realistically hideous as possible.

Gunny sacking, denim and wonderful old clothes—so old that one wondered how they could have escaped the various rummage sales which have ravaged Oakland appeared for the occasion and as each guest entered the room the others screamed with approval. The guests wore the costumes the entire evening which concluded with a late supper served in the basement which was appropriately decorated.

rated.

Though supper was served with the most primitive implements, I am sure no tramp ever sat down to so delicious a spread.

MANY TEAS IN PROSPECT.

Thursday of this week was a great day for teas across the bay. Mrs. W. H. Crocker was a tea hostess and Mrs. E. B. Young received over a hundred friends at her home, corner of Pine and Scott streets, in honor of her son's fiancée, Miss Louise Whitney of Santa Barbara. It was a very pretty tea with a number of young matrons receiving, many of them the special friends of Miss Whitney who passed her school days in San Francisco.

MRS. OLDER'S TEA.

On Thursday, also, Mrs. Fremont Older was at home in her rooms at the Palace Hotel, where she had a few friends to tea in honor of Miss Marie Wells whose marriage is to be solemnized on the twentieth. It will be a very small home affair with Miss Wells' cousin, Mrs. Truxton Beale, as matron of honor and the bride's sister, Miss Juanita Wells, who is not yet out, as the only bridesmaid. Mr. Hanna's best man and most intimate friend comes out from Chicago to assist him. There will be only about twenty guests, including the family and three or four intimate friends. Afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Hanna will leave immediately on one of the most attractive honeymoon trips ever planned. They are to be passengers on one of the ships of the Cosmos line which go to Europe via South Africa, and the Straits of Magellan. The trip will consume about four months and all the principal cities of the western coast of South America will be visited.

As this line of ships carries a large amount of freight for each port, there is ample time for travelers to see each large city and to travel by rail between some of them, which breaks the monotony of the sea voyage and enables one to get a fine idea of the country. Miss Wells speaks Spanish fluently so the South American journey will be a delight to her. Mr. and Mrs. Hanna will spend about eight months in Europe and will then return to San Francisco, which they will make their home.

THE WILSONS TO RETURN.

The friends of the Jack Wilsons were amazed last week to receive the news that the pair had sailed from Liverpool. They have evidently given up their winter on the Nile, why, no one knows, as they were not expected home for some months.

AT THE THEATERS.

Two heavy plays are running across the bay this week, both quite attractive. "Salammbô" at the Columbia and "Mizpah" at the Majestic, the latter by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, are much better than any one expected them to be. The opening night of Grand Opera at the Tivoli on Wednesday pro-

The Grand Opera House is a very large place to fill exclusively with women, especially when so much is going on, and though "Madame Butterfly" was charming, the fact that the baby was left out rather removed the point from the story. "My Aunt's Advice," proved a clever little farce and William Winter's arrangement of "The Taming of the Shrew," furnished a very delightful performance. "Hedda Gabler" was not so successful, as Miss Bates is not fitted temperamentally to cope with Mrs. Fiske in this play, which is so peculiarly suited to Mrs. Fiske. Besides, everyone in San Francisco, at all interested in Ibsen, had seen Mrs. Fiske in the play and felt that the last word in "Hedda Gabler" had then been said.

LUNCHEON AT THE PALM GARDEN.

Mrs. Frank Deering gave a luncheon at the Palm Garden last Saturday at which she entertained Mrs. Will Crocker, Mrs. Osgood Hooker, Mrs. J. Downey Harvey and Miss Laura McKinstry. Afterward the entire party went to the Gadske concert.

DAYLIGHT DECOLLETE.

The question of the propriety of wearing evening dress at afternoon functions is now the subject of debate in—Milpitas? I am not inclined to give anybody two guesses. It's too easy. Oakland is the place. Some of the best blood of Oakland is to be found at the luncheons of the swagger Ebell Club in décollete and sleeveless gowns, bejeweled and bespangled, and there has risen up in Oakland a censorious crew of ex-Cook tourists who sneer at what they are pleased to term an anachronism. In a most dogmatic fashion they assert that evening dress means evening dress and that it should not be worn until the candles are lighted. They are not the constituted arbiters elegantiarum of Oakland, but they wish to start a reform movement designed to discourage the flagrant faux pas, the shocking solecism, and the grievous gaucherie that mark the bourgeoisie of the Athens of the Pacific. But the Ebell ladies scoff at their critics, and say that they have the endorsement of the best Parisian authorities on good form.—Town Talk.

MRS. FOLGER'S DINNER.

Mrs. Ernest Folger gave a dinner last week in honor of a group of people who are just returned from Europe, and another party who are about to set out for foreign shores. It was a sort of "welcome the coming, speed the parting guest" affair. There were all sorts of toasts to the feted ones. Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Tibbetts are just back from a long tour of the Continent. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lukens, on the contrary, are about to set out for a year of travel, during which time they will take in Egypt. After that they will proceed to Japan and do ed a delight. The soprano is very fine and while the men of the company did not appear to such great advantage there is no doubt but that the fatigue of the journey was in some measure responsible. The chorus sings excellently and there is a fine conductor.

The company will remain a couple of weeks, singing all evenings, including Sundays and at the usual matinee and music-thirsty San Francisco will crowd the house though the prices, for the first time, are not popular, but have been raised to two dollars, a dollar and a half and so on. But if the singing is good it is, of course, well worth the modest sum.

Later in the spring, we are to have plenty of opera, both German and English.

There are also a number of concerts scheduled, though it is doubtful if any of them will be more delightful than the concerts Gadske gave this week and last. She is in wonderful voice and her Wagner concert last Saturday was one of the best concerts ever heard in San Francisco. The packed house received her with tremendous enthusiasm.

After the final number, the tremendous "Immolation Scene" from the "Gotterdammerung," Gadske returned with Brunnhilda's cry as an encore and the audience was so delighted and so stirred with tremendous memories that it drowned the last part of the Valkyrie's cry with its own. It was a large and brilliant house.

Miss Blanche Bates has given three special matinees but these have been but thinly attended, though the evening performances of "The Darling of the Gods" have been well patronized.

OAKLAND SOCIETY ELATED.

Oakland is greatly elated over the fact that another of its belles, Miss Olive Louisa McCall, is to marry Paymaster John R. Hornberger, United States Navy. It is getting so that a man or woman who is not connected by birth or through marriage with either the army or navy has no standing in the exclusive set in Oakland across-the-bay. And each girl who announces her engagement to an officer in either branch of the service adds to the general elation, while, on the other hand, a maiden who loses her heart to a civilian—unless he is the descendant of a long line of mill-jaraires sneaks the betrothal, or speaks of it in an apologetic tone. "Jack is such a dear fellow, you know; but, of course, there was Captain—or some other titled one—who paid me a great deal of attention!" No one has said how "Jack" the "dear fellow," feels to think that his charms have kept the fair one from achieving her ambition to be wife to the man who wears gold braid and buttons. Great thing the heart of the Twentieth Century maid!—Wasp.

MRS. TAFT'S TEA.

When in the annals of the smart set did any one ever score such a success as the tea at Mrs. Maxwell Taft's? Of teas there have been many, but no one has ever scored more than a hundred dollars,—and here is dear little Mrs. Max Taft, with three hundred and sixty dollars to pass over to a neighbor who needs it sadly.

One guest at the tea remarked, "It is because she did it all, with such great kindness of heart."

Really, the tea is a lesson to many people. Mrs. Taft saw her way to be helpful, even though when she began she thought it a very small way—just a tea for twenty-five cents, in her own little artistic home on the hill. That was what she could do, and she did it,—but it proved not to be a little thing at all,—but a great big thing,—and now there is three hundred and sixty dollars to the credit of a struggling little home.

The tea at the Taft's was really the social event of the week,—and almost every prominent family in town was represented. It is the first time the Max Tafts have entertained at any large affair in their artistic little home, and it seemed a fine thing, that this first entertainment should be for charity. At four o'clock the guests began to arrive, and before long the artistic drawing room, the pretty hall, and the dining room were simply crowded with guests, the beautiful gowns of many of them making a most attractive picture.

Mrs. Brace Hayden was the happy doorkeeper of the occasion, and one did not blame her for simply beaming as the dollars fairly loomed up, and the success of the tea was assured early in the afternoon.

Mrs. Maxwell Taft is very young, and very pretty indeed, and she made a dainty picture in a gown of light blue liberty silk. It was made with the newest effects, with a full skirt and bodice and the latest of leg o' mutton sleeves.

Miss Christie Taft looked exceedingly well, in a gown of white, with the bodice and sleeves after the more recent New York designs.

Mrs. E. B. Beck presided at the tea table, which made a dainty study in the dining room, and many of the young girls helped her to serve a very refreshing and dainty cup of tea.

Among the first of the guests to arrive was the Rev. Thomas McSweeney, who has so many friends everywhere, that he is always an honored and an ever welcome guest.

Among the guests was also Rev. Father Cranwell, and late in the afternoon Rev. Mr. Walkley, the popular and genial rector of St. Paul's appeared.

It is very difficult at a tea to plan a musical program. People will talk, and it is quite impossible to keep the average woman still at a tea. She sees her best friend, and she is impelled to talk to her. If you want her to keep still, you must give her a chair, and make her stay there.

But the program at Mrs. Taft's went off much better than usual,—the singing was so sweet, and some of it was so great a surprise.

Miss Edith Wallace opened the program with some delightful songs, and she was followed by the little club of girls who have been practicing for the past few weeks, and who sing delightfully together. The sweet singers are Miss May Coogan, Miss Carolyn Oliver, Miss Anita Oliver, Miss Cordelia Bishop, Miss Marion Smith, and Miss Christie Taft.

They have all beautifully trained voices and they do delightful ensemble work. Winifred June Morgan played on the violin splendidly, accompanied by Mrs. Maxwell Taft.

Many of the guests were beautifully gowned. Mrs. Charles Houghton is so distinctly well-bred that she looks very aristocratic, and her beautiful gray furs are most becoming.

Mrs. George H. Wheaton is wearing brown a good deal this winter, and her gown of heavy broadcloth is most artistically made and most becoming.

Mrs. Wheaton has a beautiful set of sables, which set off her gown admirably. Mrs. Luning and Miss Elsey came from the luncheon which Miss Elsey gave for Miss Worley, and both were beautifully gowned. Mrs. Luning is wearing one of the most artistic hats seen on this side of the bay this winter. It is a most becoming hat, showing the latest French effects in pink and red roses. Mrs. T. L. Barker's gown was set off with a handsome wrap trimmed in fine lace.

Everywhere one hears of "the beautiful Mrs. Fred Stolp," and she looked especially well at the tea given by her little neighbor.

Mrs. J. H. Mathews was a beautiful study all in brown, her gown in golden brown tones was set off by superb furs,—a stole and big muff.

Mrs. George Hammer wore a handsome gown in lavender tones, with an opera wrap, and a hat in tones of violet and lavender.

Miss Gertrude Allen was a very fascinating study. Her gowns are so very unique and original, and many of them look as if they came directly from Paris.

Miss Allen's costume showed green tones,—and the pretty gown was a charming study in the newest French effects.

SOME OF THE GOWNS WORN.

Beautiful Pauline Fore was daintily gowned, and with her was Marietta Havens, who was also exquisitely gowned.

Mrs. T. B. Coghill wore a handsome gown in dark blue effects, and among the guests was Miss Josie Eastland, recently returned from the south.

A group of girls standing together, and chatting merrily over their cups of tea, attracted general attention. In the jolly little group of girls were Nell Geisler, Ruth Houghton, Katherine Brown, Ruth Kales, Rose Kales, Helen Dornin, Kitty Kutz, Gertrude Russell.

Among the very prettiest of the guests at the tea was Mrs. George Porter Baldwin, formerly Miss Florence Edoff, who recently came from New York.

Mrs. Arthur H. Drake wore one of the interesting costumes of the afternoon, a gown of brown silk, over which was worn a very handsome coat of brown velvet.

Noticeable among the many guests at the tea was Mrs. H. C. Taft, who has such kindly words for everyone, and whose sweet influence means much to her friends.

Mrs. E. J. Barrett usually has a reception of her own, for every one is very fond of her.

Among the many guests at the tea were Miss Edith Beck, Miss Bessie Fillmore, Miss Ada Kenna, Mrs. Irving Burrell, Mrs. R. G. Brown, Mrs. Everts, Miss Florine Brown, Miss Louise Mahony, Miss Emma Mahony, Miss Edith Selby, Mrs. William H. Morrison, Mrs. George Greenwood, Miss Crellin, Miss Jane Crellin, Miss Ethel Crellin, Mrs. Mailer Searles, Mrs. Francis Musser, Mrs. Alfred Eastland, Mrs. Alexander Marx, Miss Viva Nicholson, Miss Charlotte Hall, Miss Helen Chase, Mrs. Walkley, Miss Pauline Collins, Mrs. Kleeman, Miss Estelle Kleeman, Mrs. Frederick Stratton, Mrs. George W. Percy, Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham, Mrs. Frank Watson, Miss Alma Brown, Mrs. J. Loran Pease, Mrs. J. E. McEll-rath, Miss Helen Chase, Mrs. George De Golla, Mrs. Allender.

Mrs. Taft is to be congratulated on the great success of the philanthropic experiment.

GOING ON TRIPS.

A number of well known people are to be away part of this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lukens sailed Thursday for a trip to the Orient. They are not going around the world this winter, but will travel extensively in China, Japan, and India.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Morrison

MRS. PHILLIP DAHLIN, NEE BROWN, WHOSE WEDDING WAS ONE OF THE EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

are going to Southern California and expect to be away some months.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Magee and their little son have gone to Pasadena, on a visit to the John B. Mhoons, who are making their permanent home there.

Mrs. Thomas Crellin and Miss Monte Crellin leave shortly for Southern California, and they expect to spend some weeks of the winter at the Hotel Potter in Santa Barbara.

Miss Louise Mahony will leave in a few days for Santa Barbara, and she expects to spend some months there.

Mr. Shirley Houghton is greatly enjoying his trip East this winter. He has been the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Morgan Bulkley, of Hartford, and he represents his fraternity, the Zeta Psi, at its annual meeting in Boston.

FUNCTIONS ACROSS BAY.

Many of our prominent people this winter are seen at functions across the bay. Many young matrons over there who used to live here are entertaining extensively this season, and they are very popular hostesses. Among them are Mrs. H. M. A. Miller, Mrs. Herbert Moffitt, Mrs. C. O. G. Miller, Mrs. William Watt, Mrs. Fred A. Jacobs, Mrs. Seward McNear, Mrs. Oscar Cushing, Mrs. Philip Clay.

On any of their days at home you are sure to find well known Oakland people, in their artistic drawing rooms.

WILL GIVE CARD PARTY.

The young girls are looking forward with much pleasant anticipation to Miss Edith Holt's card party, which is to come off next Thursday. They are to take the same narrow gauge train, and are anticipating a pleasant little expedition together. The Holts entertain in a very charming and very hospitable fashion in their beautiful home on Pacific avenue, and Miss Edith Holt is taking great pleasure in planning for her young friends.

She has asked a great many city girls, and some from Berkeley who used to go to Miss Head's school. Among the girls going over from here will be Miss Ruth Kales, Miss Rosa Kales, Miss Noelle De Golla, Miss Anita Thomson, Miss Lillie Read, Miss Ruth Houghton, Miss Katherine Brown, Miss Kitty Kutz, Miss Gertrude Russell, Miss Elsie Schilling.

BENEFITS FOR CHARITY.

The Smart Set of today is taking the greatest interest in the many philanthropies of the day. You will find it much in evidence in all the many benefits for charity.

Just now on both sides of the bay, the greatest interest is being taken in the well known "Children's Hospital." An amateur vaudeville entertainment is being planned, and it is proposed to give it at the Alhambra Theater on the evening of February fifteenth.

All the smart set of San Francisco will be in evidence, and already sixteen boxes, at twenty-five dollars each have been sold.

Great secrecy is being maintained by the ladies in regard to the program, and it is expected to develop many surprises. Mrs. Crellin, (Camille D'Arville) is to sing, and Mr. Horace Miller is to give the clever sleight of hand performances for which he has been famous.

Tickets for the performance will be on sale at Taft and Penoyer's, and among the prominent people who are working hard for the entertainment are Miss Minnie Houghton, Mrs. Will Taylor, Mrs. Geo. Taylor, Miss Cora Smedberg, Miss Bertha Sydney Smith, Mrs. Silas Palmer, Mrs. Lawrence Scott, Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. McMullin, Mrs. George McNear, Miss Carolan, Miss Cadwalader, Miss Kittle, Mrs. Earl Brownell, Mrs. Samuel Boardman.

MUSICAL FUNCTIONS.

Musical social functions are quite the order of the winter at Berkeley. On Tuesday the second series of the Gutterston recitals was begun at "Allenoke," the beautiful new home of the Allen G. Freemans.

"Evening dress" is the rule at these recitals, and staid, conservative Berkeley has turned over a new leaf socially, for the Freeman music room has represented a brilliant gathering.

The University contingent has been largely in evidence, and the muscals have attracted general attention on both sides of the bay.

Mrs. Freeman is a sister of Mrs. E. A. Kluegal, and the Freemans formerly lived here, so many Oakland people have been invited to the muscals.

The Allen Freemans went abroad, and on their return built one of the most charming residences in North Berkeley, near that of President Wheeler.

Curds are out for an interesting musicale also to be given in Berkeley, the hostess of the evening being Miss Evelyn Shepard.

The Shepards formerly lived on San Pablo avenue, next to the Dietz residence. But when their suburban villa was burned, they moved to North Berkeley, where they have a picturesque home. The Shepard list is always a long one, and includes the Selbys, the Ralstons, the Louis Ralstons, and across the bay Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eells, the Misses Eells, Lieut. and Mrs. Babcock.

CHARMING YOUNG GIRL.

Miss Caroline Macdonald of Mare Island is the guest this week of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Phelps at their home on Vernon Heights. Miss Eleanor Phelps is a very charming young girl who is still in school, but she always has interesting girls staying with her from Mare Island.

The Phelps intend to entertain extensively when Miss Eleanor shall have finished her studies.

ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST.

An engagement of much interest in naval circles, and in social circles over here, is that of Lieut. Clarence Kempff and Miss Alice Brigham.

Lieut. Kempff lived over here for many years in his school boy days, and the family home was here all the time that Admiral Kempff was in Asiatic waters.

The Brighams are very well known in the exclusive sets of San Francisco, and Miss Alice Brigham is the eldest daughter of the late Doctor Brigham.

After the passing of their father Mrs. Brigham took her daughters to Boston, where they have been in school for the past two years.

The engagement was announced this week, and an early date is to be set for the wedding.

Lieut. Kempff is stationed on the Ohio, and the big man-of-war is to leave San Francisco harbor in the near future. Everyone is sorry, for its officers have done a great deal of entertaining this winter.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

The various women's clubs are all succeeding in having thoroughly interesting dates. The Home Club gave everyone who wished it, the pleasure of going to London, personally conducted by that charming speaker, Burton Holmes. The auditorium was simply packed with people, and the lecture was immensely interesting. It was a long series of the most wonderful moving pictures in the world. Burton Holmes has one picture in his biograph series that lasts eight minutes.

It was quite wonderful crossing the ocean in the midst of big waves,—and then, later, all those wonderful London streets and parks. They made a most delightful series of pictures, and they made you simply live London, for that evening, at least.

JACOB RIIS' LECTURE.

And apropos of lectures, Jacob Riis is to lecture at Reed Hall on Monday evening. Of Jacob Riis there is no need to say anything. Everyone knows of him, and of his superb work in New York. Very few people in the entire country know New York as Jacob Riis knows it. He is to give the very best lecture of his series, "Tony's Hardships," and the lecture will be given for the benefit of the Oakland Club, and of the Oakland Social Settlement.

The lecture begins at eight o'clock, and is to be beautifully illustrated with stereopticon pictures of New York.

EBELL CLUB BREAKFAST.

The Ebell club breakfast on Tuesday called out a large and fashionable audience. The tables were very pretty indeed, each one carrying a lovely bouquet of violets. After luncheon, there was a musical program, and the address of the afternoon was given by Mrs. L. F. Cockcroft, who has recently returned from abroad. Mrs. Cockcroft and her children had an interesting stay in London, Dresden, Paris and Rome, and Mrs. Cockcroft gave an amusing and interesting account of life in each of these large cities—that is life from the point of view of a Californian.

Among the handsome gowns of the afternoon were those of Mrs. J. Loran Pease, Mrs. William Morris, Mrs. Clarke Goddard, Mrs. Gilbert Curtis, Mrs. James G. Allen, Mrs. T. L. Barker, Mrs. Franklin Bangs, Mrs. John Bakewell, Mrs. George E. Whitney, Mrs. J. T. Wright, Mrs. John Yule, Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. E. C. Timmerman, Mrs. J. H. Todd, Mrs. Lewis Tashera, Mrs. Melvin Chapman, Mrs. Edgar Stone, Mrs. J. R. Scupham, Mrs. Prentiss Selby, Mrs. Gordon Stolp, Mrs. Walter Scott, Miss Ruth-erford, Mrs. Oscar Luning, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow, Mrs. E. J. Barrett, Mrs. Frank Ogden, Mrs. Emil Nusbaumer, Dr. Pauline Nusbaumer, Mrs. E. M. Herrick, Mrs. Edward Henschaw, Mrs. Glascock, Mrs. Gorrell, Mrs. W. H. Creed, Mrs. A. K. Crawford, Mrs. E. J. Cotton, Mrs. S. C. Borland.

On next Tuesday afternoon the members of the Ebell club will listen to an address by Dr. Fred Cottrell, of the University of California. He is a young man who has been abroad, and who won distinction in the leading universities of Germany.

Doctor Cottrell is to address the club on "Random Impressions of the Fatherland." Each winter the Ebell club has an evening reception to which men are invited. An elaborate affair is being planned for this winter, and the reception is set for the evening of the twenty-fourth of January.

There will be a large receiving party, and an interesting program is being prepared for the early part of the evening.

JACKSON STREET HOME CLOSED.

Mr. Thomas Knowles and his sisters, the Misses Ruth and Alice Knowles, are spending the winter with their sister, Mrs. Harry Gordon.

The large Knowles home on Jackson street has been permanently closed, and the young members of the family are planning to spend the coming year with Mrs. Gordon. Later they may possibly go abroad.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Matters in the Country Club seem to be rolling along in a merry sort of way. Many of the girls go out to play tennis, and the Golf Links are proving even more satisfactory than the golf links on Adams Point. There are many guests from San Francisco to be found on our Golf Links, as the players have not to face the raw cold wind of the Presidio Links.

The men have been making some good scores, and among the really good players are Captain Goodall, M. W. Kales, Frank Kales, George De Golla, E. R. Folger, J. O. Cadman, George McNear Jr. But somehow not any of the younger set of girls care to play golf. They will walk miles if need be, and on this side of the bay, there are some most accomplished equestriennes.

Among them are Grace and Laura Sanborn, Clare Chabot, Lucretia Burnham, Rose Kales, Savilla Hayden, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. R. A. Bray, Mrs. Edward Brayton.

Miss Gertrude Allen has a very spirited horse, and an English groom, and she is a charming picture taking an early morning ride.

But none of these athletic young people care to play golf, and there are none of them coming up to take the places of Mrs. George S. Wheaton, Mrs. George Doubleday, Mrs. John Hampton Lynch, Mrs. Frederick Masee, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mrs. J. H. T. Watkinson, Mrs. William Pierce Johnson is far and away the best player on this side of the bay, and she has innumerable cups, won at tournaments, as trophies of her skill.

The members of the Country Club are to try an experiment this month. They are planning an informal dance to be given next week at the club house. It is a subscription dance, and each member will have the privilege of inviting two guests.

It is an experiment, for the older members care very little about dancing—indeed, their "dancing days" may be considered fairly over, and the younger members already have many dancing dates.

However, it may be a great success, and if it is, there will be other dances before the week is over.

H. C. CAPWELL GOES EAST.

Mr. H. C. Capwell left for the East on Wednesday, and when he returns he will attend to the plans for his new home. The Capwells have bought a picturesque building lot on Oak street, in the section known as "The Willows," and they are planning a most artistic home. Already the grounds are being improved with large palms. The Piedmont residence of the Capwells is for sale, and work will commence on their new home in a few weeks.

GORGEIOUS DECORATIONS.

Never has any season developed such gorgeous decorations as are seen everywhere now-a-days. Whenever there is any social function, The Home Club showed holiday decorations simply superb, at the reception. The Ebell Club always has splendid decorations in the auditorium, and recently it was a magnificent study in great palm leaves, brought from Idora Park.

At "Highlands" they are only just now taking down the holiday decorations. The entire big hall was beautifully festooned with garlands, and all through the lower floor was the sweet spicy fragrance, suggestive of pine woods. It reminded one of the pictures that come to us of the country homes of old England.

Almost every home had holiday decorations, and in many a little home, one caught sight of a shining Christmas tree.

The home of the Charles R. Allens was a most cheerful study in Christmas decorations.

Every prominent luncheon or dinner shows a scheme of decoration, unique and very original.

Nothing on either side of the bay equaled this week the decorations at Miss Beatrice Fife's luncheon.

Miss Fife is a very popular social

NEWS NOTES FROM PLEASANTON.

LAND DEAL INTERESTS PEOPLE OF COUNTRY TOWN.

PLEASANTON, January 14.—A land deal of considerable importance has just been consummated effecting the ownership of a portion of the Green estate, near Dublin. W. H. Donahue has purchased all of the west portion of that estate from J. E. McDonald, Jr.

This property is considered one of the most fertile pieces of land in the township, and a portion of it is now planted to sugar beets. The property was purchased as a speculation by Mr. Donahue for the firm of Harris & Donahue.

A SMALL PARTY.
Miss Grace Rasmussen recently entertained a small party of her friends at her home near Santa Rita. Those present were Miss Carrie Batten, Miss Alice Springer, Miss Pearl Morse, Garfield Case, Elwood Walter, Christian Rasmussen.

A SURPRISE PARTY.
A number of friends of Miss Alice Springer and Miss Carrie Batten gave them a surprise on Friday evening by gathering at the home of Miss Springer. The hostess and her friend were equal to the occasion, however, and entertained their guests with games and cards and during the evening served refreshments. Those present were: Misses Mabel Simpson, Mabel Gilson, Hattie Hay, Lulu and Ella Schoof, Elsie Corcoran, Grace Rasmussen, Carrie Batten, Alice Springer, Messrs. Earl Downing, Harold Hewitt, Ed Jones, T. H. Silver, Garfield Case, Elwood Walter, Christian Rasmussen, Frank Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. John Springer.

TOOK THE HORSE.
Larkin Locks, as receiver, has been placed in possession of the horse Chin Wah, belonging to J. R. Albertson, and at present at the Pleasanton racetrack. The action was brought by Mrs. O. B. Baust of Fresno to foreclose a chattel mortgage on the animal. Harris & Donahue represent Mrs. Baust.

INSTALLED OFFICERS.
Court Alisal, No. 198, F. of A., visited Livermore with a large delegation and their officers elect on Wednesday evening, and took part in a joint installation and banquet. The installing officer was Charles Evans of Niles, and Grand Secretary J. J. Cordy of San Francisco, and Grand Trustee W. H. Donahue of Pleasanton. A number of the officers of the official magazine of the order, were present. The officers of Court Alisal installed were: N. Hansen, P. C. R. J. T. Cale, C. R. Percival Madsen, S. C. R. George W. Meyers, financial secretary, J. R. Hildes, recording secretary, T. H. Silver, treasurer, H. Rowe, Sr. W. J. Peter.

REALTY MARKET IN OAKLAND PROSPEROUS.

Outlook Never Better—Increasing Demand For Property of All Kinds.

Perhaps no more significant commentary upon the reliability of the realty market in Oakland could be desired than the fact that at this time of the year, when real estate transactions are supposed to be few and unimportant, and in fact every sort of business is expected to be quiet, there has been no such lull in Oakland.

On the contrary never were prospects brighter than at the present time. And this is a statement, made in all sincerity, not a quotation from any individual real estate promoter whose business it would naturally be to "boost," but a statement made by a disinterested person, gathered from the collected opinions and assertions of those in a position to know and who would have nothing to gain by false representations.

FROM CAUSE TO EFFECT.

Reasoning from cause to effect, it is not difficult to trace the reason for the conditions just mentioned. Enough has been said by able writers all over this State, of the glorious future, in store for California, of its gorgeous climate, of its unparalleled fruits and flowers, its undeveloped resources and in short, its entire desirability as a place of residence. Enough has been said of these attributes to show why California as a State is the ideal location for both living and working—for the rich man and the man of moderate means alike. It remains to tell why Oakland is, above all, the choice of Easterners and the majority of those who would bid farewell forever to terrible winters and hardly less terrible summers of other portions of the United States.

All that is best in California has centered in Oakland and Alameda county. Nowhere is the climate more desirable—nowhere are commercial conditions more prosperous, nor the opportunities for profitable investment more plentiful.

The demand for income properties by small investors at the present time is greater than at any previous period. Property is worth from $3000 up is mostly in demand, although there are seekers for more expensive properties as well.

EASTERN ENTERPRISES.

Just now there are a great many Eastern manufacturers who are looking toward Oakland as a desirable location for establishing their plants.

One large drug concern has practically decided to locate here, as well as two manufacturers of children's and women's garments.

It is only a question of time and not a long time either, before these and many others as well will have located their plants in Oakland and its environs.

NEW HOME CENTERS.

New home centers are being opened up in Oakland with every passing year, and are rapidly filling up with residents of the most desirable sort. A steady stream of newcomers is continually arriving from San Francisco—people of moderate means who would rather own homes, even if they have to pay for them on the installment plan, than to pay a large rental for a residence on a 25 foot lot in San Francisco. The unsurpassed facilities for transportation have much to do with this influx of dwellers from across the bay. Even if their business interests are there, they are practically as convenient to them, when residing on this side.

DEMAND FOR STORES.

The demand for stores that rent for $100 or less per month is extraordinary at this time. The supply is altogether inadequate to the demand. From Northern California are reported many inquiries for places in which to open business.

The demand for cottages is also greater than ever before. Those renting for from $15 to $25 per month are most desired.

LETTERS FROM GERMANY.

Edwin Stearns, secretary of the Board of Trade, stated today that he was receiving an enormous number of letters from all parts of the East, and even from Germany, asking information as regard the possibilities for employment, business openings and home sites.

Thus, it will be seen that Oakland is known and looked upon as a land of promise by people even in the remote quarters of the globe.

NO NEED TO BOAST.

A prominent citizen of Oakland recently remarked that the necessity for continually booming or boosting Oakland, was past. "Its own merits," he said, "are sufficient to commend it to the people who are looking for a desirable location in which to settle. Of course I do not mean, in the slang phraseology, that we should 'krook,' but there is no need to be continually shouting praises that are self-evident and can be seen and appreciated by anyone who is interested or takes the trouble to investigate."

HUGHES CLUB TO GIVEN BIG CONCERT

The Hughes Club is actively rehearsing for the first concert of the eighth series, which will be given Friday evening next. The club has been exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of the noted Italian grand opera baritone, Riccardo Augusto Grandanaco. Oakland people are accorded the opportunity of hearing this famous singer through the personal influence of Lawley Hughes, son of D. P. Hughes, who is now leading an orchestra in London, England.

The following chorus will be rendered by the Hughes Club assisted by well-known local soloists:
Snowdrops.....Dorn-Blatt
By the Waters of Babylon.....W. H. Neidinger
Thistle-down.....G. W. Chadwick
Legend of Bregenz.....Cantata
Willard Bond

Night of Joy.....Blue Danube Waltz
Autumn Violets.....Homer Bartlett
Juanita.....Billeter
The club's annual election of officers for 1905 resulted in the re-election of Mrs. Wilhelmina Wilke, vice-president; Mrs. J. E. Henderson, secretary; Miss Lilla Phillips, treasurer; voice committee—Mrs. Charles Fournier, Mrs. Evelyn Williams; music committee—Mrs. Karl Nickel, Mrs. Eleanor Campbell; accompanist, Mrs. Robert Hughes; director, D. P. Hughes.

PLAN TO AID RUSSIAN JEWS

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Jewish citizens of Chicago are taking steps to give aid to and find homes for the hundreds of Jews who have fled from Russia to escape service in the army of the Czar, and are now flocking to Chicago in ever-increasing numbers. In order to facilitate and systematize the work of securing the refugees and organizing them as the Jewish Agricultural Aid Society has been informed, and Dr. A. E. Levy, pastor of the Congregation B'nai Abraham, who is corresponding secretary and manager, has received the guests, returned to the strains from hundreds of refugees, who have reached Chicago in search of homes and employment.

The society has undertaken on a large scale a scheme of colonization of the Middle Western States. Out of its loan fund the society has advanced money to Jews willing to establish themselves in the West. The amount lent has varied from $500 to $1500. With this money the Jews purchase farms or rents paid for them. The money lent is returned when their farms become profitable.

Thursday evening the members of Oakland Aerie No. 7, Order of Eagles, Drum and Bugle Corps, were the guests of Mr. Barton of Ye Liberty Ice Cream and Candy Parlors.
The host prepared a number of tables where the guests sat down on either side, the tables being prettily arranged and decorated, and everything was at their command, and served by a bevy of beautiful young women.
Oyster cocktails, punches, lemonades and ice cream and cakes were served; while the guests listened to the strains rendered by an orchestra which was in attendance for the occasion.
Worthy President Harrington of Oakland Aerie, being called upon, proposed a toast to their host, wishing him abundant success, which was responded to by Mrs. O'Holloran, contralto solo by Mrs. Leeland, moving pictures; baritone solo by Charles Moser.

LATE NEWS FROM RICHMOND.

COMMITTEE ON INCORPORATION IS APPOINTED—PERSONAL MENTION.

RICHMOND, January 14.—A Odell and W. T. Satterwhite have been appointed by Dr. Blake, of the Incorporation Club, as a committee to attend the next meeting of the Board of Supervisors at Martinez and endeavor to have a day fixed to take the vote on incorporation. This committee was appointed in accordance with a resolution adopted at Tuesday night's meeting of the club.
Great interest is taken in the result of the campaign for incorporation, the majority of citizens feeling that it is the one step necessary to the further advancement of Richmond.

CUT HIS WRIST.
A Payson, porter at the depot, cut his wrist severely on a trunk which he was handling Thursday morning. Several stitches were required to close the wound, but he did not lay off from his work.

WOMEN OF WOODCRAFT ENTERTAIN.
A delightful entertainment was given last night by the local circle of the Women of Woodcraft, which was followed by a dance. The program was as follows:
Introduction, piano solo, Mrs. O'Holloran; solo by Mrs. Morphy; recitation by Mrs. Moyle; baritone solo by Mr. Charles Moser; song by Miss Magge; reading by Miss Wood; illustrated songs by Charles Moser, piano solo by Mrs. O'Holloran; contralto solo by Mrs. Leeland; moving pictures; baritone solo by Charles Moser.

NEWS NOTES.

Friend W. Richardson of the Berkeley Gazette was a visitor here Thursday.

THE BELL.
The program at the Bell Theater, consisting of eight numbers, all of which are of a high-class order, drew crowded houses this week. "The Hall of the Boy and Girl," are exceptionally fine, and received flattering encores nightly. Pete Dunsworth sings well as usual. Wilson and Wilson, the comedy duo in black face characters, the charming little Californian baritone, Wynn and Hart, character change artists; Ventura, the French contortionist, and a splendid series of animated pictures, all contributed towards making the bill an exceptionally strong one.

According to the bookings for next week the bill will be one of the best that has yet been shown in local vaudeville houses. Miss Eldridge, one of the cleverest and most engaging comedians here, and will no doubt create as great a sensation as he has in all the large Eastern cities. The Four Orlans, the greatest grotesque quartette in America today, are now playing at the Lyceum Theater, San Francisco, and will make their debut to Oakland audiences. Their success in San Francisco has been tremendous, and no doubt they will create as much favorable comment here as they did in that city.

Miss Sallie Randall, soprano, and several other large feature acts, including the much talked of motion picture, entitled "The Life of an Ex-Convict," will conclude the bill.

Its Influence Has Been Felt by So Many Oakland Readers.

The soothing influence of relief after suffering from itching piles, from hemorrhoids, or any itchiness of the skin, makes one feel grateful to the remedy. Doan's Ointment has spotted hundreds. Here's what one Oakland citizen says:
R. Gilgan, carpenter, of 1215 Clay street, says: "I had itching and bleeding hemorrhoids, commonly known as piles, for years. None but those who are afflicted with it and night with this excruciating affliction have the faintest idea of what a sufferer endures and when at last he finds a means to bring relief he is only too pleased to let his friends and neighbors know what he employed. I believe the second application helped. I can consistently declare from the treatment I received more genuine benefit and more immunity from distress and annoyance than from anything I ever used."

ASK FOR FIVE MORE OFFICERS.

Police Commissioner Re- quest Council For Ad- ditional Patrolmen.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners yesterday afternoon requested the City Council to add five additional patrolmen to the present police force. This action was taken after hearing the reasons of Chief of Police Hodgkins.

There are now sixty-six officers, jailers and patrolmen on the force. Of this number 100 per cent are assigned to patrol duty during the day and night. Chief Hodgkins states that during the day time he cannot properly police the water front West Oakland or North Oakland. He stated that the commissioners agreed with Chief Hodgkins that more police officers were required. There have only been five policeemen added to the force. The extra policemen were paid for by the City of Jackson, nearly 20,000. This only allows one additional policeman for every 4000 persons on the City of Jackson. The Council, if it passes an ordinance increasing the force, will have to appropriate the money to pay for the services from the general fund.

- ACCEPTS RESIGNATION

The board accepted the resignation of Special Police Officer Jacobson. Jacobson, short while ago Jacobson had preferred charges against regular Policeman Henderson. The charges were not proven and the accused officer was exonerated. Jacobson was infuriated at that time that Jacobson had better resign.

Henderson appeared before the board and wished charges to be brought against Jacobson. The truth is that

ALAMEDA SENATORS FAVOR GOOD RULE.

Rev. Dr. Dille Writes to Assemblyman Espey About the Racetrack Bill.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, January 14.—Senator Simpson of Alameda sought to establish a rule in the Upper House of the Legislature to the effect that, hereafter, when the Senate by means of a concurrent resolution, desires to have anything done by the Senate and House of Representatives in Washington, the resolution in question is to be so worded as to "request" and not to "instruct" the people at the Capital to perform the duty in question. The resolution prevailed so far as the number of votes on either side of the question is concerned but President pro tem Wolfe held that the resolution was a change in an established rule of the Senate and that it accordingly required a three-fourths vote to carry. The measure secured 23 votes in the affirmative and 9 in the negative but under the President's ruling was lost. The matter will come up again Monday under reconsideration and Simpson hopes the resolution will be adopted.

OLD BONE OF CONTENTION

Over this subject for years there has been a jangle in the Senate. If the Senators and Congressmen had enemies in the Legislature the latter have always favored the use of the word "instruct" in communications sent to them from here. Their friends on the contrary have always desired to use the word "request." Session after session and sometimes twice and three during the session time and sweetest of temper have been lost over this sample of tweedledum and tweedledee.

Simpson wanted to have the question settled for all time and Senator Leavitt aided him materially by stating that, frequently when referring matters to Congress as was the case on the floor of the Senate he was compelled to take the word of some other person as to the facts of the case. If one could be positive about a thing one would not object to the use of the word "instruct." Besides the men in Washington had information of their own on nearly all subjects and under the circumstances, he favored requesting instead of instructing the Washington people to do something for them.

Senator Simpson said that more time had been lost in discussing this matter than had been given to important bills and it was time that the matter was disposed of forever. He is under the impression that when the subject comes up Monday that desideratum will be reached.

STILL SILENT ON POOL BILL.

"I have not yet heard from the three Oakland gentlemen who prepared the bill for the abolition of pools at racetracks," said Assemblyman Espey today, "on the matter of making public their names."

"I have received a letter however, from Rev. Dr. Dille of Oakland who, I know has spoken to one of the authors of the bill. He tells me that he will give me all the assistance he possibly can in the premises. Dr. Dille is not the clergyman who was allied with the other two framers of the bill."

"I have also received a letter from H. A. Powell of Oakland, the attorney. He speaks in just about the same way that Dr. Dille does. No Mr. Powell is not the legal member of the three authors of this bill."

Sensor Leavitt said to-day that a number of members of the Legislature are asserting that they are going to vote for the anti-pool bill so as to make Tom Williams come up here and try to stop them.

MERCHANT EXCHANGE WINS.

A measure which will be greatly appreciated by the merchants of Oakland and in a special manner by the Merchants Exchange of that city, is one by Coghlan of San Francisco which declares trading stamps to be lotteries and therefore illegal. In this bill the giving of houses and lots as a means of securing trade is also declared to be illegal. The Merchants Exchange of Oakland has long fought this "stamp" method of cooing business and will doubtless do all it can to have the State take cognizance of the system which that body has denounced in severest terms.

SUPERVISORS MUST REPORT.

The State Agricultural Society desires to have every county represented in its annual reports and is preparing a bill making it incumbent upon Boards of Supervisors to annually furnish the society with reports of the products raised in their respective counties.

SCOTCH PEOPLE TO CELEBRATE

In accordance with a time-honored custom the Scottish people of Oakland and vicinity, will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of their national poet Robert Burns, by giving a public concert and oration in Hamilton Hall on Wednesday evening January 25th. The singers will not only render Burns songs by Scottish composers but also will treat the audience to several quare, and duet selections of familiar Scotch melodies.

The speaker of the evening will be Judge Henry A. Melvin, and his part of the program is looked forward to more than usual interest, for his Scotch friends and admirers are certain that Robert Burns though long dead will live again in love-verse and epic under the spell of his imagery.

BUT HE IS NO ONE'S HERO

(New York Press)

Charles Melvin Schwab was a poor, bare-footed boy in the mountains of Pennsylvania. Today he is able to give $10,000,000 in a deal and look pleasant, wear shoes costing $50 a pair, live in an apartment for which he pays $50,000 a year, build a $3,000,000 palace and pay $5 for a 1-cent newspaper. That is the very essence of material success.

SHERIFF BISHOP'S REQUEST.

Wants Three More Men in Office to Expedite Business.

SACRAMENTO, January 14.—Sheriff John Bishop of Alameda county needs more help for the satisfactory despatch of business in his office owing to the great increase in population of Oakland and Alameda county and the consequent increase in civil criminal and miscellaneous business with which the sheriff has to deal.

The sheriff has just returned home after attendance upon the convention of sheriffs of the State which was held in this city and, while here he outlined the demands of his office in a practical way. He says his force should be increased by a bookkeeper, an office deputy and a stenographer. These additional attaches would involve an additional outlay as follows: Bookkeeper $1300 per year; office deputy $1200 and stenographer $600 making a total of $3600. This would make the grand total of the office a little over $22,000 a year instead of a little over $18,000 as at present. Even with this increase the percentage of expense when based upon the population of the county is smaller than that in proportion, of either San Francisco or Los Angeles.

PRESENT ALLOWANCE.

The county government act as it now stands allows the sheriff's office an under sheriff, a chief jailer, two assistants five deputies a jail matron and a deputy as bailiff for each department of the Superior Court.

All the lame of the under-sheriff is passed at the receiving desk and in directing the business of the office. This allows him no time to register or index cases and prepare returns. These duties now consume nearly all the time of another man who is now acting as bookkeeper.

MEN IN SUPERIOR COURT.

The two departments of the Superior Court are now about constantly in session thus requiring a bailiff nearly all the time while at times, two bailiffs are needed in the criminal court. Writs and processes are being constantly delivered at the office requiring service immediately and, for this, it is urged a deputy should be available. To promptly deliver criminals and insane people at the institutions to which they are committed requires the services of a deputy from seventeen to thirty days per month. The chief jailer and two assistants are each on duty from eight to sixteen hours per day. The advantages of typewriting and stenography in expediting business can not be overestimated.

PROVISION FOR SIX YEARS

Whatever provisions are made by the present Legislature for increasing the facilities of the office must stand as a law for the next six years or until 1910 and during that time the population of Oakland and Alameda county will greatly increase. The increase should be intelligently provided for.

An idea of the increase of the population may be received from the business of the sheriff's office. The number of cases registered in 1902, exclusive of Alameda county criminal, habeas corpus and insane matters was 421. Those handled thus far in 1904 were 808. During the same period there was an increase of 30 per cent in the fees of the office.

LITTLE YARNS

Lord Brampton tells how once while he was plain John Hawkins he defended a man for wife murder. The prisoner, a childless man, was in court and sobbing violently when he met and their girl and the accused man, who combined to acquit the defendant.

Lord Brampton tells how once while he was plain John Hawkins he defended a man for wife murder. The prisoner, a childless man, was in court and sobbing violently when he met and their girl and the accused man, who combined to acquit the defendant.

TO THE WORKHOUSE

The latest suggestion for the treatment of prisoners in workhouses comes from Alderman Johnson of Chicago. "Nothing but flower beds down lawns and scented ways should be given these unfortunate persons," said the alderman to a committee of the council. "Let all the prisoners get out into the pure air. Give them tender memories of the fields. Let it be three months in the park and not ninety days in the jug."

The alderman's feelings and his originality alike do him credit.

RAY T. BAKER TAKES UP HIS NEW DUTIES.

RAY T. BAKER.

Ray T. Baker, until recently a deputy county clerk, has taken an important position in the real estate department of Oakland office of the Realty Syndicate.

Any firm in securing the services of Mr. Baker obtains a valuable young man full of twentieth century business ideas and competent to conduct business with advantage to all concerned.

Since 1899 until a short time ago, Mr. Baker was a deputy county clerk. He left his studies at the Stanford University to assume the deputyship and served in office with great credit to himself.

A large part of the time Mr. Baker was a deputy, he spent in the criminal and probate departments of the Superior Court. This he was enabled to gain considerable knowledge of matters pertaining to the affairs of Oakland and Alameda county, a knowledge which will now be exceedingly useful to him in his new position.

Mr. Baker is the son of Attorney George W. Baker of this city, one of the leading lawyers in the State. Provided by nature with a keen intellect, Mr. Baker has studied on affairs of men and books and is certain to succeed in any undertaking. He has also traveled extensively.

Believing that a young man should take an interest in the affairs of his city, county and State, Mr. Baker has taken an active part in politics and is now recognized as one of the leaders among the younger politicians in Alameda county. He is a Republican and has always worked hard for the success of the ticket.

He has selected the real estate as his future business and his many friends throughout Oakland, Alameda county and the State are certain of his success.

Mr. Baker is of pleasing address and has won many admirers during his term as a deputy in the County Clerk's office. He is ever willing not only to perform the duties of his office but would often give assistance whenever possible. For these acts he has made many friends, who wish him success in his new position.

Mr. Baker has his offices in the Realty Syndicate Building, next to Ye Liberty Plaza house on Broadway near Fourteenth street. Any persons having really worth while work marketed will find Mr. Baker to be a straightforward business man who will obligingly attend to all wants.

GOVERNMENT SELECTS MILITARY PARADE GROUND FOR CARNEGIE'S BUILDING.

THE HAGUE, January 14.—The Government of the Netherlands has finally selected the military parade ground near the Bosch as the site for Andrew Carnegie's Palace of Peace. The selection must be approved by the State's general.

The Bosch is a park nearly two miles long a short distance out of The Hague. It abounds in forest trees which are allowed to grow undisturbed. At the end of the park is the palace known as the Huis Ten Bosch (the House in the Wood) built in 1647. It contains many old and valuable paintings.

One Appropriating Money and the Other For the Recession of Yosemite Valley.

SACRAMENTO, January 14.—An additional load of "literature" on the subject of the recession of Yosemite to General Government reached here today and was distributed among the members of both houses. Thus far no champion of the cause of the retention by the State of the great wonderland, has appeared. This fact is causing many Legislators to feel that no fight against recession is to be made and they are accordingly siding with those who would permit the Valley to slip out of the hands of the State and into those of the National Government, giving the impression abroad that California is too poor or too niggardly to care for a gift of Nature which has been admired by people in all parts of the world.

Senator Curtin of Sonora, who resides nearest to the Valley, says there is no danger of California losing the Yosemite and that when the time comes to discuss the subject there will be arguments in favor of this contention which he says will be of a most convincing character.

Appended are the views of the Senators of Alameda County on this subject, and among them will be found a novel proposition on the subject by Senator Leavitt of Oakland.

Sensor Leavitt—I have given the matter a great deal of thought. My own opinion is that I think we ought to place before the Governor two bills, one making such an appropriation as would put the Valley in good condition, build a first-class, modern hotel and make all needed improvements. The other bill should be for the recession of the Valley to the General Government. The Governor could sign one or the other of those bills, as suited his views. That would be the simplest way out of the matter.

Sensor Lukens—I have heard only ad captandum arguments up to the present time on the subject. I do not know how I shall feel after I shall have given the matter consideration. At the present time, I am opposed to recession.

Sensor Mattos—Of course, they can't take it away from the State. I haven't made up my mind yet, but, at first sight, I think it might be well to have the National Government spend $200,000 or $300,000 a year in improving the park for several years. That is more than we can spend and State pride—that amounts to nothing. There are so many State asylums which need appropriations that we can not supply money enough to go around. Now out at Glen Ellen, the inmates of the Home are sleeping in the halls and have no comfort. I do not know how I may feel when I hear arguments pro and con but I can see some advantage from the Government taking hold of Yosemite.

WANTS BIBLE READ.

M'Cartney of Los Angeles Opposes the Attorney General.

(Special to The Tribune)

SACRAMENTO, January 14.—McCartney of Los Angeles hopes, through a bill which he has introduced, to enable the bible to be restored to the public schools of the State, despite the fact that Attorney-General Webb has rendered a decision to the effect that the bible is a sectarian work and therefore has no place in the public schools. His bill proposes an amendment to section 1652 of the Political Code relating to sectarian books and teaching in the public schools.

This amendment provides "that nothing in the act shall be construed to prevent the use of the Holy Bible in the public schools" when no reference is made either to sectarian import or denominationalism. "In the schools," declares McCartney, they teach about the Mythology of Greece, Egypt the Norseland and of a number of other places and I don't see why we can not have a book which teaches about the true God." Thus far, the bill has not received very much commendation.

VAN LOBEN SELS MAY BE CHOSEN

There was a largely attended meeting here of the Executive Committee of the River Improvement and Drainage Association with the Levees and River Improvement Committee of both houses for the purpose of deciding upon a committee to go to Washington to induce the National Government to appoint a corps of engineers to report upon the work so that government aid might supplement what has already been done by the State. A committee of three brains, influential men is desired. P. J. Van Loben Sels of Oakland took a great deal of interest in the deliberations and his name has been mentioned as that of one of the proposed committee for work in Washington. The appointees are to be named by the Governor.

AN ARKANSAS EDITOR ANSWERED.

An Arkansas editor, who has been married two weeks, gave vent to his experience on the matrimonial sea in the following poetic language: "We'd rather live on Cat Island, with a parrot for a mate, and have sand blisters on each of our toes than to dwell in Paradise and wear silk slippers with a woman who pouts." Just let him try living alone with a sand blister on every toe and no woman around to "doctor" them and humor him, and see how long he will be willing to stay there.—Grand Junction (Iowa) Herald.

THE ARGONAUT.

"Hamburg's Enormous Trade" is the title of an article by Jerome Hart, the Argonaut of January 16. Mr. Hart gives figures on population, imports, and exports and gives some surprising statistics regarding the growth of European and American cities. His letter is spiced by some humorous incidents of travel. Among the other notable features of the Argonaut of January 16 will be "The Cabin Folk," an exceptionally good story of the weird order by R. C. Fitzner, "Unofficial New York," a letter in which Geraldine Bonner tells how Gothamites dress and think alike, an article, peculiarly interesting at this time on earthquakes and criticisms of "Salambo" at the Columbia Theater, and Blanche Bates in Madame Butterfly and "The Grand Opera House," by Josephine Hart Phelps.

THE BEARS.

"In our country," said John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, the Democratic leader of the house "the people who eat the newspapers have to be mighty careful how they put things. Now there was an editor down there who wanted to write a nice piece about a schoolman who had just finished her last term at the local schoolhouse. He wrote some compliments and wound up with a reference to 'the reputation for teaching she bears.' Next day that schoolman chanced that editor up the street with a club, and at every jump she yelled that she never taught a 'bear' in her life."—New York World.

Call Issued For Meeting of Republican Committee.

BERKELEY, January 14.—A meeting of the Republican City Central Committee has been called for next Wednesday by Chairman Charles E. Thomas. The meeting will be held in the Shattuck building. Preparations for the coming municipal campaign will be made. It is probable that action will be taken in the matter of electing members of the Board of Education and the Town Trustees at large instead of by districts. The committee will decide how the convention delegates are to be chosen, whether from the town as a whole, from wards or districts, or combination of districts. Because of the expense it is not likely that more than a dozen voting places will be arranged for. As it is, the first, second and third wards will probably be divided and the other wards will remain as a whole. This would make ten or twelve voting precincts in the town and will probably be more satisfactory to the candidates than any other proposition. A petition will have to be presented to the Trustees asking to have the party designated on the ticket. The Republican City Central Committee is composed of twenty-three members, three from each of the wards and a chairman and secretary at large. The Non-Partisan committee has not yet been called together, but it is understood the chairman, Victor Robinson, is preparing to get the party in shape and have a ticket in the field.

CAR SERVICE SCORES A HIT.

BERKELEY, January 14.—Large electric cars, of the sort recently used almost altogether on Telegraph avenue, have been placed on the Rose street line. The change is a particularly welcome one for the residents of the North End. The big car takes the curves with much more ease than did the small ones and does not make near as much noise.

It will probably now be only a short time before some, if not all, of the Telegraph avenue cars will continue through Berkeley and around the Rose street loop, thus saving the residents of the North End the trouble and inconvenience of a transfer.

BANK SOON WILL MOVE.

First National Men at Annual Meeting Talk of Plan.

BERKELEY, Jan. 13.—Announcement was made at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of Berkeley, held on January 10, that the bank is to occupy its quarters in the new building at Center and Shattuck, by the end of February. At a cost of $125,000 it has erected the splendid new home on the southwest corner of Center and Center streets. This handsome, modern, steel-framed, fire-proof structure, will contain eighty-three offices, sixty of which have already been rented. The bank's quarters will be much larger than those in the present building. It is in excellent shape. The First National Bank has a capital of $150,000 and a surplus fund of $100,000, while the Berkeley Bank of Savings has a capitalization of $50,000 and a surplus of $20,000. The deposits of both banks now amount to $1,750,000 and the total assets $2,200,000. The officers of the institution now consist of the following: A. W. Navier, president; F. M. Wilson, vice-president; S. L. North, cashier; W. E. Squires, assistant cashier; E. L. Brock, assistant cashier. The board of directors is the same as last year with the addition of William H. Crocker of San Francisco. The others are J. W. Havens, C. M. Gayley, W. H. Marston, J. R. Little, A. W. Navier and W. B. Ring.

HONORS ABOARD FOR GRADUATE

BERKELEY, January 14.—Honors abroad have come to Henry Port, a graduate of the University of California with the class of 1901 and who received the degree of master of science from the same institution in 1902, has been heard from in Bohemia, where he has gained considerable distinction as orchard and viticulture inspector of the Bohemian section of the Commission of Agriculture for the kingdom of Bohemia. Professors Hilgard and Woodworth of the agricultural department at the University of California received copies of a bulletin on the culture of orchard fruits written by Port, which is being used in connection with the exhibit of the agricultural department at the International Horticultural Fair at Düsseldorf, Germany.

STUDY AT NIGHT.

Y. M. C. A. Opens Course
For Those Desiring Instruction.

BERKELEY, January 14.—Professor Elmer E. Brown of the department of education at the State University spoke at the opening of the Y. M. C. A.'s night school for men, his subject being: "Keep on Growing." Directors of various courses were present to explain in detail the methods to be adopted by students who desire to take the course. The branches to be taught are bookkeeping, English, Spanish, architectural, mechanical and free-hand drawing. Each class will have two recitation periods of one hour each per week. The fees required are quite nominal, so that no one need be deterred.

BERKELEY QUARTET

TO GIVE CONCERT.
BERKELEY, January 14.—The Berkeley Quartet which has scored so many successes throughout the State is to sing here next Friday night in Shattuck hall under the auspices of the Berkeley High School Athletic Association. The concert will be under the direction of William H. Morse who will sing the tenor solo, "Down the Vale" by Molt. The other members of the quartet will be Walter De Leon, 2d tenor, Dr. S. D. Block 1st bass, Frank Agall, 2d bass.

TOWN TALK.

The Oakland belle and her man-hunt is humorously treated in a Sanitarian paragraph in this week's Town Talk, and in another the trials of her papa are discussed. The social itinerary of Mrs. Eleanor Martin, the week's wedding, Pippy's ambition, the early Stone and the sensational situation are other topics discussed. There is an essay on Lying by Harry Cowell, a theologian assisted by Theodore Bort, the eighth of the Open Letters; a story by Robert Mace and a poem by Mabel Porter Pitts. Beside these the departments are filled to the brim with newsy items.

INSTALLED.

Odd Fellows Celebrate
Event in Fitting Manner.

BERKELEY, January 14.—With a banquet and appropriate exercises, officers of Berkeley Lodge, No. 270, I. O. O. F., were installed for the ensuing term in Odd Fellows' Hall last night. The following assumed office: H. D. Keisley, junior past grand; Rodger Pries, noble grand; W. H. Neiman, vice grand; J. W. Striker, recording secretary; George E. Striker, financial secretary; Byron E. Underwood, treasurer; John E. Straight, warder; F. J. Ryan, outside guardian; A. H. Broad, conductor; William Lloyd, inside guardian; J. S. Linscott, right supporter to noble grand; J. L. Cohen, left supporter to noble grand; John Bigelow and H. L. Underwood, right and left supporters to vice grand; W. H. McCoy, right scene supporter; Roland Darby, left scene supporter; C. H. Townsend, chaplain.

THE INSTALLING TEAM

was composed of: Hugh Martin, grand marshal; J. S. Linscott, grand warden; J. G. Wright, grand recording secretary; R. C. Staats, grand financial secretary; F. J. Ryan, grand treasurer; Joseph Davis, grand guardian; District Deputy Grand Master J. E. Straight was the installing officer. The work was done in the usual finished style that characterizes Berkeley Lodge. An excellent banquet had been prepared and a large number of guests sat down to the tastefully decorated tables. Speeches were made by H. H. Camper, past grand of Chico Lodge; Past Grand A. H. Broad, Dr. Gilbert of Massachusetts; Past Grand C. H. Townsend of Orton Lodge (celebrating his seventy-fifth anniversary and his forty-second year as an Odd Fellow); Past Grand R. C. Staats, J. G. Wright, Clarence Merrill, Past Grand Phil Sheridan, Dr. J. Edson Keisley, C. R. Lord and Dr. F. R. Woolsey.

NATIVE SONS

PLAN FOR EVENT.

BERKELEY, January 14.—Elaborate preparations are being made by Berkeley Lodge, No. 270, Native Sons of the Golden West for the installation of officers for the ensuing term on the evening of January 18 in Odd Fellows' Hall. A class initiation will also be held on the same evening.

TO OPEN STREET.

Improvement Club of West Berkeley Considers Matter.

BERKELEY, Jan. 14.—Condemnation proceedings having in view the opening of Gilman street are favored by the committee of West Berkeley Improvement Club men appointed recently to consider the status of the street in question. At the meeting of the club last night the committee reported through W. R. Dickson, chairman, that condemnation proceedings will be necessary.

"I think this is a very important matter," said Dickson, "and I would have influence brought to bear upon the Town Attorney to take action at once to protect the rights of the people." Lyman Nelson of J. S. Sykes it was decided to urge the question of condemning the property without delay, the City Clerk and Trustees to be communicated with at once. The roadway is still in private hands, and, although two years ago a fair road-bed was made, contractors and others are declared to have carried off the sand grading until the thoroughfare is now impassable.

Town Trustee Dowd on behalf of the electric light committee reported that the lighting company would be urged at once to put up in a new area light at Channing way and San Pablo avenue. President Olsen announced the following members of a newly appointed executive committee: J. A. Sykes, President; P. J. Keegan, W. W. Farewell, Arthur O'Keefe and L. Lane. Chairman Keegan of the transportation committee reported that the Oakland Traction Consolidated had signified its willingness some time ago to receive any petition or request relative to changes or improvements in the street car schedule. "I believe," said Renas, "that the key route, if extended, would at once secure the lion's share of the traffic from West Berkeley."

WASTE CHOSEN.

Assemblyman to Represent
in Debate.

BERKELEY, Jan. 14.—An honor which is not by most persons, perhaps, ranked with the laurels as a legislator won by Assemblyman William H. Waste, has come to the Berkeley statesman from the Alumni Association of the Berkeley High School. It is said that the Assemblyman is proud of the recognition from his alumni comrades than if the many distinctions showered upon him in his public life.

Assemblyman William H. Waste, Leon Martin and William A. Hackley are the three distinguished graduates named by the Alumni Association of the Berkeley High School to represent the alumni in a debate with the Forum, the school's debating society. While arrangements have not yet been completed for the proposed alumni-school debate, it is almost certain that it will be held. William A. Andrews, president of the Alumni Association, appeared before the Forum at its meeting last Tuesday afternoon and stated that he would like the debate postponed until after the close of the State Legislature, which would be about the end of February, in order that Assemblyman Waste might be a member of the team. He stated that the alumni would soon take some decisive action on the question of holding the debate.

PERSONAL NOTES

FROM BERKELEY.

MAJOR JOSE RAMON PICO
PASSING AWAY.

Last of a Race of Spanish Dons Dying in Alameda—Encinal News Notes.

ALAMEDA, January 14.—Major Jose Ramon Pico, last of a race of Spanish Dons, lies near to death at his home on Broadway. Major Pico has led a long and strenuous life and until within a few months ago was accounted a very vigorous old gentleman; but at almost 80 years he is stricken with an acute stage of inflammatory rheumatism, which has caused him to be bedridden for a month. He has been given up by his physician and his death is stated to be only a matter of days, if not hours.

Major Pico is a nephew of Pio Pico, California's War Governor, who was the Executive of the present great State from 1830 to 1836 and again Governor for the period between 1844 and 1847. His grandfather, Major Dolores Pico, came to this country from Spain in 1761, having commissions from the Spanish King to build missions and subdue the Indian tribes. The present Major Pico has been very proud of the fact that a richly jeweled sword given to his grandfather by the King of Spain for valorous and chivalrous deeds in the long ago Spanish province, was given by the Alameda Major to the late President Garfield. He possessed an autograph letter of thanks written to him by General Garfield a few days before he fell from an assassin's bullet which has always been among the old grandee's most prized relics.

General Antonio Maria Pico commanded the Mexican troops in California during the war of 1846. At the close of the War General Pico was one of the signers of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo. When Burnett was elected first Governor of California, General Pico was made Lieutenant-Governor. Subsequently he served as a Supreme Judge of the State and was at a later date appointed by President Lincoln, Registrar of the Government MEETING.

NO REPLY HAS AS YET BEEN RECEIVED FROM MRS. RICE.

HAYWARDS, January 14.—A special meeting of the Board of Trustees was held Thursday evening in the Town Hall. All the members were present.

Attorney Ryker reported that he had received no reply to his communication to Mrs. Rice of Kimball lane. He wrote to her nearly two weeks ago offering to have the fence and buildings along her frontage moved back by the town if she would give a strip of land for widening the road. This lane will be a continuation of the scenic boulevard now under construction, and is to be graded and macadamized as well as widened. The town also offered to do this work in front of her property without expense to Mrs. Rice.

The Town Attorney was instructed to again write to the woman, offering $200 if she would attend to the alterations.

A resolution to change A street, east of Castro, to the standard width was passed. This means that the hill must be cut down. Work has been commenced on this already, the Street and Building Committee having charge of the operations. They have awarded the contract to Contractor Gamberg of Moscow Eden. School Trustee Ramage is attending to the removal of the gravel, which he is using in improving the grounds of the Laurel school.

HAYWARDS NOTES.

P. Wilbert sold a house and lot on Fifth street, between B and C streets, to M. Treppelle for $1,500 yesterday.

Tomorrow a game of football will be played between the Haywards and San Ramon teams. Both teams have been diligently practicing for the event and a hard fought contest is looked for. The visitors weigh about ten pounds more than the Haywards boys.

WORMS

"I had for years suffered from what medical men called Intestinal Worms. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I had lost my appetite and was losing weight. I had tried many remedies but nothing helped. I then bought a box of Cascarets and was surprised to find that it was so easy to take. I took one box and in a few days I was feeling better. I took another box and in a few days I was feeling like a new man. I have now taken three boxes and I am feeling better than I have for years. I can now do my work and I am gaining weight. I am sure that Cascarets is the best remedy for Intestinal Worms."—Chas. Blackstock, West Philadelphia, Pa.

SHALL MEN BE ADMITTED TO WOMEN'S CLUBS?

Pertinent Question Which is Agitating Members of the Federation in Doubt.

BY BETTY MARTIN.

When the California Federation of Women's Clubs meets in conclave at Los Angeles next month, it will in all probability have to decide a question beside which the color line sinks into insignificance.

The rumblings of the new movement have been heard from afar, California has caught the echoes and is determined to bring the matter to an issue.

The all important question to be raised is this: Shall men be eligible to membership in women's clubs?

It is proposed to strike out the word "Women's" from the California Federation, thus making the title read "California Federation of Clubs," instead of as it now stands.

The South leads in this movement, although as a sort of preliminary, the change was broached last year at Sacramento, where the project failed to meet with general favor. In fact, it was, in the parlance of the street, sat down upon without mercy. Since then several clubs of women in Los Angeles have taken it upon their shoulders to assume the responsibility of male membership. Mrs. Adelaide Tichenor, president of the Long Beach Ebel, states in defense of this position that men have repeatedly performed work for which women have been credited.

The Wednesday Morning Club of that same city has recently elected the Hon. Owen McAleer, together with several of his friends, to honorary membership, and so it is that in the Southland this movement has many ardent supporters. When the Federation meets on the second week in February of this year, it is hoped to bring all the women's clubs into line favoring the proposition to admit men to membership. The proposition has not been aired throughout the State with any great degree of publicity, nor has the question been freely discussed, with the exception probably of at Los Angeles and some of her sister cities of the South, where conditions apparently differ greatly from those existent in other sections of California.

Among the representatives from Alameda district at the coming convention may be mentioned Dr. Myra Knox, Miss Julia Fraser, Miss Eva Powell and Mrs. A. H. Glascock.

Dr. Knox is expected to tell what she thinks about women on school boards, and if ever a woman was competent to express an opinion as to that question, it is Dr. Knox, who will speak from a standpoint covering several years of practical experience, during which she has won many a hard-fought battle for right. Regarding her ideas on the admission of men to the California Federation, I do not know how she stands, but I do know that the question of the admission of this element is of the gravest importance, and one which threatens the power of the clubs as a whole. Personally I should advise to let well enough alone.

For the last two or three years alarmists have been hammering away as to the dangers surrounding women's clubs. Mrs. Herotin of Chicago was early in the field, but not a solitary one of her utterances had the signal effect that did the now famous edict of Mrs. Mary Eddy, commanding all women followers of the sect she promulgates to withdraw from any club whose membership was confined strictly to women. This caused the withdrawal of about six women from the Oakland Ebel, whose membership list is confined to five hundred, with many applicants in waiting, so there was not a marked depletion in the ranks.

It would be interesting to know why this change in club membership is contemplated.

Are men clamoring for admission into the ranks of women clubdom, or are the women tired of the companionship of their own sex, and do they pine for the society of their brothers?

Why should men be admitted to the Federation, anyway? How many men would have time to devote to club life, as represented by women's gatherings?

I do not believe that men as a body would care to take an active part in women's clubs, which certainly lead to a strenuous existence. To men the word "club" is full of significance. It means a place of refuge, relaxation, enjoyment and freedom from care and worry. A place where they can smoke, drink Scotch and soda, play cards, put their feet up on the chairs and go without neckties if they want to, without fear of hurting the proprietors or any one's feelings. With them the club is not a place in which to work nor discuss questions of serious import.

To women the word club signifies work—work—always work. True, there are days set apart for social purposes only, but these occasions are ceremonial affairs in which each and every woman dresses in her very best and goes forth arrayed in her company manners to listen to classical renditions on the piano or learned discourses on travel or some kindred subject. No woman ever dreams of going to a social junction in her usual every day garb. She never has a "jinks," nor ever for one moment throws off the mask which long centuries of bondage to the powers that be has taught her to wear.

How many men would have time for that sort of thing, say one day in the week?

How many men would care to attend an affair of the sort mentioned, if they could?

And that brings me to another phase of the question. It is a truism that all women's clubs meet in the daytime. Now, what manner of man would have time to devote to clubs during the hours of daylight?

There would be only three classes of men eligible, and they may be summed up as follows:

- 1. Idlers, who would not be wanted.
  - 2. Retired gentlemen of wealth and leisure, who would ride the clubs as a hobby, and want to run things generally, and
  - 3. A few overzealous grandpas who had outlived their usefulness.
- What woman of brains hankers after such additions as these to the ranks? Have club women arrived at the desperate stage of the old maid, who, in praying for a man, ejaculated with such fervor, "Any one, Oh, Lord!"

Bah! The men of affairs—the men of brawn and muscle—the men with good red blood in their veins are off about their business during daytime, as they should be. If they were not, they would be a menace, not an addition to women clubdom, for the minute they entered the sanctum, the sex question would make itself felt, and flirtations would be rampant, spite of the fact that the majority of club women are married. It is dangerous to play with fire, and it is far better to let men alone than to drag them further into the vortex.

One of the reasons given for the desire to admit men to membership of women's clubs is that women, with their greater opportunities, are educating themselves away from men.

This may be so, but wasn't it necessary for the salvation of their souls and bodies?

Are women today entitled to the same representation under the law as men are allowed? By no means.

In how many States in the Union are women permitted to vote? Do women now know enough of the law to compete with men? Have not women still to fight every inch of the way to business equality?

Have not women in all ages been regarded as the toys of men—a plaything for their passions—their lawful game?

Are they not still so regarded in all countries save those in which women are educated along the line similar to those followed by men? These are pertinent questions which every woman should consider.

BETTY MARTIN.

"WANTED, A COOK."
One of the wildest little volumes of the year is "Wanted a Cook," by Alan Dale. The never-ending question of "help" is treated in its most humorous vein and no one can read it without indulging in a hearty laugh, at every page. Alan Dale is known far and wide as a writer of books that fairly scintillate with witty sayings and the present volume is no exception to the rule. How far the work will go toward solving the much-mooted question it is hard to say, but it will certainly serve to amuse the reader who seeks for something new and out of the ordinary and doubtless is all the writer intended. Published by the Bobbs-Merrill Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

"LIFE IN SING SING."
"Life in Sing Sing" is the story of a convict told by someone who signs himself "Number 1500." As the publishers wisely remark, the book serves the special attention of newspaper folk because the author was so devoted to journalism that he kept it up even behind the bars. Other men, they say, have gone to prison to escape it.

That the author was a man of culture and observation can be told even from a casual glance at his production. His opinions based upon experience, and a habit of careful attention and critical discernment will prove interesting reading and not alone to the student of criminal characteristics, but the general reader as well, will find food for reflection within the covers of "Life in Sing Sing." Published by

The Bobbs-Merrill Company, Indianapolis.

"LOVE SONNETS TO ERMIN-GARDE."

A dainty volume of delightful verses is "Love Sonnets to Ermingarde," by Edward O. Jackson. The spirit of impassioned affection, which, however, is at all times curbed by a refinement and a tenderness that is good to know, runs through the lines. The author has likewise the gift of simile to a marked degree and the comparisons by which he portrays the character of his beloved are clever and apt.

Particularly strong in rhythm and poetic charm are these lines from the last sonnet:

"Tarrywell! Ah, wherefore should that word be spoken,
In hopeful mockery of the soul's despair,
As though 'twere possible for love's heart broken
Again to build enjoyment anywhere:
Farewell, yea, I would fain fare well
And linger
Within the hallowed precinct of thine eye,
Or at thy lattice, like some woodland singer,
Sweeten the slumbers with a lullaby."

The book is beautifully printed and bound and is sold for $1.25. Published by Richard G. Badger, the Gorham Press, Boston.

THE GOLD HUNTERS OF CALIFORNIA.
Another contribution to the vast array of books which have been written about the "days of old," the days of gold and the days of '49," has just been issued, under the title of "The Gold Hunters of California." It is by Thomas Edwin Farish, himself a pioneer, and his tale of his early coming as a boy to this State, his adventures, successes and reverses, makes fascinating reading, even to those who have read it all before, or who have lived it themselves.

Much of the early history of commercial life in San Francisco and Oakland is told and even the political aspect of the times has not been neglected. The doings of the vigilantes—the law and order party—the Broderick-Terry tragedy, mining, the coming of the Chinese, the story of the banditti, and many other occurrences, episodes and adventures of the early days in California are told in some cases in the language of an eye-witness, in others as by one who, having lived through it all, and possessing an inquiring disposition, has learned from authentic sources all that he failed to see. The volume is illustrated with drawings by F. I. Vetterbee and by photographs of prominent men of those days—men who laid the foundation stone of many of the enterprises which now flourish, though their bones have long since turned to dust. Published by M. A. Donohue & Co., Chicago.

NOTES FOR THE WOMEN

FIRST SCHOOL IN CALIFORNIA.

The first American school in the young, overgrown State of California, says the Designer, was inaugurated a century ago when a baker's dozen of the little natives were gathered together on a row of empty boxes in a leaky, adobe house of one room, standing near the old Santa Clara Mission. Here Mrs. Olive Mann Isbell, of Iowa, rang her school bell and thereby made history. From her tiny seed of education in the big State has sprung a wonderful tree. Look at a school map of California and you will see the dots that represent institutions of learning fairly peppered over its surface. It is an interesting fact that many of the largest-typed names in California's educational records are those of women. Mrs. Isbell founded the first American school there. Other women of note followed up her efforts. At the present day the two great universities stand as representing the life labors of two distinguished women.

SIMPLICITY OF DRESS.

Since the extravagant overdressing of millionaire children commenced to excite comment among a section of sensible, matronly women, it has been noticed that the children of the Duchess of Manchester no longer enjoy the luxury that was hitherto lavished upon them. It was estimated at one time that some of her baby's dresses cost no less than $100 to $150. She had a penchant of Irish lace and linen and a store in London known all over the world for the superior quality of its wares always looked anxiously for the arrival of a Manchester baby. When the nurse and her charge were seen abroad in the neighborhood of Tenderages castle or in London, people used to remark jocularly that the dress was worth more than the baby. All this is now changed and the Manchester youngsters are no more conspicuous than the children of ordinary middle class people.

The duchess of Marlborough has always dressed her children well, but there is an entire absence of anything remotely suggestive of the ostentatious display of wealth in their apparel. It is hinted that the abandonment of extravagant dressing is due to the princess of Wales, who when she saw the tendency on the part of millionaire mothers to be conspicuously vulgar, commenced to dress her children in the simplest fashion.

A NOTED SQUAW.

The party from the Creek enrollment division of the Dawes commission which has been in the field for some time taking testimony relative to names on the allotment rolls met with a remarkable Indian woman. She has wonderful powers of leadership and her fame for wisdom spread throughout the entire Snake tribe.

This woman's name is Fahnne and she is a fullblood Snake. Her home is at Hillahee, a fullblood settlement west of Tufala. The braves of the tribe never undertake a hunting expedition without first seeking her advice. The Indians usually look with contempt upon the advice of a "squaw," and it is a most unusual occurrence to find a brave of the tribe listening to the council meetings of the tribe. Fahnne, however, has this privilege, and her opinions always being asked on such occasions. She is 50 years old and has an enviable reputation for virtue and honest dealing. She is often consulted by Wachacha, the chief medicine man of the Snake tribe, who is supposed to be in closest touch with the Great Spirit. To be taken into the confidence of the medicine man would be considered a honor by any of the members of the tribe. Fahnne is a woman who enjoys this distinction is considered by the tribesmen doubly honored.

COMBINATIONS OF FLOWERS.

When Miss Society steps out for her afternoon airing she wears a huge bunch of lilies-of-the-valley, and a single American Beauty rose at her corsage. In times gone by, she was content with violets alone, or even one or two blossoms of her favorite flower, but now she must have a combination of at least three. Orchids, white lilies out of season and other rare floral decorations have never before been so popular.

THE OLDEST ACTRESS.

Since the death of Mrs. Gilbert, the honor of being the oldest actress on the American stage has fallen on Mrs. Imogene Hyams, who is now playing "Way Down East." She was born in 1838 and made her first appearance at Philadelphia in 1846.

A GOODLY RECORD.

A letter which appeared the other day from a Mr. William Osborne, of Althorpe, who, with reasonable pride, boasted of his family record of seventy-three living descendants, has drawn a good-natured letter from Lord Claud Hamilton in defense of the record held by his venerable mother, the dowager duchess of Abercorn, who "can beat him," writes Lord Claud, "upon all points. Her grace is in her ninety-third year, and has living five daughters and five sons, whose united ages amount to 880 years, sixty grandchildren, eighty-eight great grandchildren, and four great-great-grandchildren—a total of 162 living descendants."

Lord Claud Hamilton might have made this record still more formidable had he not been limited to the number of survivors, for, all told, the duchess of Abercorn has had considerable over 200 direct descendants.

There was a remarkable gathering of the survivors, it may be remembered, on the occasion of the duchess's ninety-first birthday last year, when the family party included the marquess of Hamilton, the countess of Pembroke, the earl of Lichfield, Lord Robert Cecil, rear admiral the Hon. Hedworth Lambton, the marchioness of Hamilton, Viscount Vallerot, the earl of Durham, the duchess of Marlborough, Lady Norah Spencer Churchill, Lady Ernest Hamilton, the duchess of Abercorn, the marchioness of Blandford, Lord Claud Hamilton, the dowager countess of Lichfield, Mr. Victor Cavendish, the dowager duchess of Abercorn, Lord George Hamilton, the countess of Dalketh, the duke of Abercorn, the earl of Dalketh, Lord Frederic Hamilton, Lord Ernest Hamilton and the countess of Wicklow.

WAS REAL THUNDER.

Miss Ethel Barrymore tells the following story of Sir Henry Irving, in whose support she appeared when he produced the play "Peter the Great."

It appears that at a rehearsal of the play in question at the Lyceum Theatre, in London, a wonderful climax had been reached, which was to be heightened by the effective use of the usual thunder and lightning. The stage carpenter was given the order. The words were spoken, and instantly a noise which resembled a succession of pistol-shots was heard off the wings. "What on earth are you doing, men?" shouted Sir Henry. "It's not a bit like it."

"Awfully sorry, sir," responded the carpenter; "but the fact is, sir, I couldn't hear you because of the storm. That was real thunder, sir!"

CONCERNING CONAN DOYLE.

An American lady asked Conan Doyle one day why he had given up the practice of medicine. He said the work was too hard, and to prove it he went on to tell of his first case:

My first case came to me in the middle of the night. It was January, and a cold rain was falling. The jangle of the door bell awoke me from a sound sleep, and, glancing and yawning, I put my head out of the window and said, "Who's there?"

"Doctor," said a voice, "can you come to Peter Smith's house at once?"

"What is the trouble?" I asked.

"Smith's youngest girl has taken a dose of laudanum in mistake for paracetamol, and we're afraid she'll die."

"All right, I'll come," said I.

"I tramped three miles through the cold and rain to Smith's. Twice on the way I fell on the icy pavement, and once my hat blew off, and in the darkness I was nearly half an hour in finding it."

"Finally, though, I reached Smith's. But the house was dark—shutters all closed—not a light. I rang the bell."

"But at last a head struck itself gingerly out of a third-story window."

"Be you Dr. Doyle?" it said.

"Yes," said I, "let me in."

"Oh, no need to come in, doctor," said the child's mother, "all right now. Sleeping very quiet."

"But how much laudanum did you give it?" said I.

"Only two drops, doctor—not enough to hurt a cat. I guess I'd better take my head in now. The night air is cold. Good-night. Sorry to have troubled you."

"I buttoned my coat and turned homeward, trying as best I could to stifle my mortification and anger. But suddenly the window was raised again, and the mother said:

"Doctor, I say, doctor!"

"I hurried back. I thought the child had suddenly taken a turn for the worse. 'Well, what do you want?' I said."

"The voice made answer: 'Ye won't charge nothin' for this visit, will ye?'"

"THE VALUE OF INDIVIDUALITY.

There was recently on exhibition in New York a tablecloth valued at seven hundred dollars. This cloth was composed of squares of Irish linen and hand-made lace, and it was trimmed all about with an edging of lace to match the squares. What made this beautiful creation so valuable? Not the materials themselves, for one could have purchased the linen and the threads for a few dollars. What gave it its worth was the creative thought and the artistic individuality put into it by the designer and the worker.

So it is with every piece of work wrought by the skillful hand after the value of the materials. The skillful designer. The materials for the handsome centerpiece dolly or what-not may cost less than a dollar, but who will deny that the clever hand working out the design has not increased the value of those materials by appearing in graceful curves and flourishes more than a hundred-fold?

DRESS ACCESSORIES.

The little accessories of dress give variety if one has some thought to give to procuring and using them. For the shirt waist there is nothing more stylish than the stiff linen collar either plain or embroidered, worn with a four-in-hand tie which may be of black or harmonize with the waist and skirt. These ties are effective of waist silk. The stock to match the waist or the belt, are all in vogue.

Dainty strips of lawn come hem-stitched on both edges for collars and cuffs, though if one has the time these can be made at home either of linen lawn hemstitched, dotted Swiss, or plain lawn simply hemmed. Perhaps this is a good time to mention that each costume demands a touch of color or of black to be strictly up-to-date—sometimes simply introduced by a large choux of color on the left side of a waist front but more often in a reverse—a vest effect, or a bow.

Belts are an endless variety of ribbon, silk and leather. Nothing is too fancy if it is in keeping with the costume. Necklaces that just outline the collar are much in vogue. Jade beads in graduating sizes and amethyst are perhaps the smartest.

Among the dainty finishes for the neck is the small standing lace collar to be put on outside of the standing dress collar. These collars are made with or without a jabot. By any one accustomed to doing lace work these collars can be made at home.

MAKING TABLECLOTHS.

Squares of hand-made flax lace-work, alternating with squares of plain, heavy linen, make the beautiful border adornment of some of the handsomest table-cloths of the day.

THE AMERICAN GIRL AT THE COURT OF KING EDWARD.

The presentation of the American girl at the English Court gives her the best social life of Europe. This year the first presentation took place last Friday at the Drawing Room in Buckingham Palace. Miss Evans, the daughter of Henry Clay Evans, who has just been appointed Consul-General to London by the President, was the first American girl of the season to be formally received by the King and Queen.

The flax squares show figure and flow or designs. This flax square has already been illustrated in these columns.

RUSSIAN BRASSES.

Russian brasses are possibly the heaviest and most in quality and color. One may find them in the queer little Russian shops in the lower part of New York and Boston. The growing interest in brasses has encouraged their importation, and if one has patience to barter, many artistic treasures may be obtained at very reasonable prices. The most characteristic piece is the samovar. These are treasured very highly by those who are fortunate enough to possess them. They are found in innumerable shapes and sizes, a witness to the tea-drinking habits of the Russian. Every Russian peasant who is prosperous enough to enjoy the luxury of tea has his samovar. At all inns each visitor is supplied with one. They are invariably accompanied with the traveler and the picnic, and even the offing. A large assemblage of women in evening dress is certainly more attractive than one where all the frocks are made with high necks. In such gowns the coiffure will appear to so much better advantage. The dainty little theater bonnets, which are merely bits of lace, a few flowers and bows or some tiny flat creation, as becoming as it is pretty, which are affected by some women, mingle charmingly with the heads elaborately dressed in puffs, curls and curls and decorated only with a bow, an aigrette, a jewel or flower.

CHARMING GOWNS.

From an aesthetic point of view the new mode of gowns for evening wear at the theaters will prove very charming. A large assemblage of women in evening dress is certainly more attractive than one where all the frocks are made with high necks. In such gowns the coiffure will appear to so much better advantage. The dainty little theater bonnets, which are merely bits of lace, a few flowers and bows or some tiny flat creation, as becoming as it is pretty, which are affected by some women, mingle charmingly with the heads elaborately dressed in puffs, curls and curls and decorated only with a bow, an aigrette, a jewel or flower.

A DRAWING ROOM NOVELTY.

A pretty novelty has been introduced into some drawing rooms in this city, and is likely to win greater favor as it becomes better known.

One of the drawing rooms referred to is a long, not very large and about 14 feet high, with two windows at one end and a wide folding door at the other, which leads to a second drawing room larger than the first and square. In spite of the fact that perhaps there is no other room in a New York house quite so hard to make artistic as a long, narrow drawing room, it is the front drawing room in this case which is destined to be the show piece of the house, and it is likely to be copied many times in the next few months.

The furnishings are of the Louis XV design—all white and gold. There are trareries of gold on the white paneled walls, the woodwork is entirely of white enameled wood, and the furniture corresponds.

Between the windows is a long plate glass panel mirror, and at one side of the room, where, ordinarily there is a mantel and fireplace, the space from floor to ceiling is filled with another mirror, which from the six feet wide, framed in white enamel and flanked on either side by a carved round column about eight inches in diameter. Across the top is a projecting frieze carved to match the columns.

Now, there are many admirable features about a mirror of this sort, chief among which is the fact that it makes a narrow room look almost twice its width. The owner of the house was quick to recognize this advantage. Nevertheless, when she saw it, she shook her head and said:

"It is not artistic. It suggests too much a modern hotel or a fashionable show room where gowns are exhibited. Something must be done."

Something was done. She sent for an architect and a house decorator, and the three consulted. As a result a few weeks later the mirror was crossed at a distance of about seven and a half feet from the ground by a carved box something more than a foot high, and nearly as wide which fitted in between the columns and matched them in tint and design.

The box was lined with metal, filled with rich mold and planted end to end with ferns of a variety which takes kindly to indoor life, and with several varieties of small leaved vines, which trailed over the carved front of the box and partially veiled the mirror almost to the floor, without, however, being thick enough to detract from its usefulness. With the aid of the vines and ferns and the box the mirror is now the most artistic feature in the room.

"The expense is considerable," admitted the owner of one house with a drawing room thus beautified, "but had the design cost twice as much I would cheerfully have paid it."

GITTERTYL FILET.

One of the new ideas in fancy work is darning on square mesh nets, and because of the rapid, easy way of working, this embroidery is being taken up with great interest both here and abroad.

In many cases this Gittertyl filet, as it is often called, bears marked resemblance to the beautiful flax-guipure which is so artistic and attractive, but which is the result of months of patient work, the mesh as well as the design being hand-made.

The Gittertyl work, on the other hand, is done on square mesh net, which may be bought by the yard in different sizes and widths and is worked in mercerized cotton, silks or crevells, as blue and green, but if one desired to get a particular shade it would be but a simple matter to have the white net dyed.

Designs for doing this work may be bought, or designs from a cross-stitch manual may be utilized, for the same idea is followed in both kinds of work, and very often the plainer and more geometric patterns produce more satisfactory results than other designs which are more ambitious.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better it is. It is a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfests the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE.

BAY VIEW PARK IS THE PLACE TO BUY REAL ESTATE
The place to buy real property is where a city will be built in the future. The time to buy is just before the city starts to build. The price to buy is just before the city starts to build.
Bay View Park is located between Berkeley and Richmond. It is a beautiful tract of 1000 acres, with 1000 homes on the S. F. Is at the western end of the tract, and Schmidt Station on the Oakland branch of the Santa Fe. It is the eastern end of the tract with 100 homes. The East Shore and Sunnyside Railway is now constructing its trolley line from Point Richmond to Berkeley on San Pablo avenue, and View Park has 1000 feet frontage on San Pablo avenue. The trolley line will be completed by the first of April, 1905. Bay View Park is about three miles north of the residential part of Berkeley, and Berkeley is 6 miles or north at the rate of about one-half a mile a year. Berkeley must grow, and there is only one direction in which it can grow, and that is toward the east.
It is bounded on the south by Oakland, on the west by the Bay, and on the east by the Berkeley Hills.

Bay View Park is absolutely free from the smoke and gas fumes of the many factories and institutions. The years ago Point Richmond was a pasture, and now it is the Pittsburg of the Pacific. It is the center of the growth of the city, and it is the center of the time when Berkeley and Bay View Park will meet, and Bay View Park will be in the line of the growth of the city.
The trolley line for about one-tenth of what the same property can be bought for in either Point Richmond or Berkeley. The best evidence of our property is that a good deal of it has been bought by real estate agents as an investment. The land is beautifully located, overlooking the bay, the highest portions being about 15 feet above the level of the ocean. It is only thirty feet, twelve feet more than Richmond.

When the trolley line is completed the residence of over 100,000 people can be reached by trolley from Bay View Park. We have graded most of the streets and laid the water and sewer lines. We also agree to furnish water to all the houses at reasonable rates and to furnish a policy of title insurance. Our terms of purchase are deed, $1000, $75 and upwards. Easy terms, no interest and no taxes.
Office at 12th and Derby 1325.

forms the story of the play, leading up to powerful situations and startling climaxes, with a tragic yet happy ending. There are twelve scenes in the five act play, and these Mr. Belasco refers to as "pictures." These are most elaborate in design and execution, and the production is said to surpass in brilliancy that of "Du Barry."

this clever little company have been most satisfactory in their roles although the hits of the play are the splendid comedy work of Miss Osa Waldrop and Elmer Booth. Next week the famous Majestic Theater Company direct from the Majestic Theater in San Francisco, where for the past several months it

FLORENCE ROBERTS.

No dramatic event that has transpired in this city for years has aroused so much enthusiasm as the forthcoming engagement of the dainty artist Florence Roberts at the Macdonough Theater on Wednesday night in the remarkable tragic story of "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," dramatized by Lorrimer Stoddard from Thomas Hardy's novel of the same name. Miss Roberts' art and reputation have been steadily growing until now she is not only regarded as "the representative actress of the West," but also as one of the greatest exponents of emotional acting on the American stage. Her performances are veritable treats that not only entertain but contain a world of thought and study. The play "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" serves to demonstrate the finest qualities of her art and at the same time tells a thrilling and absorbing story. The scenes are laid in England and give scope for some fine character sketches as well as a scenic production of more than ordinary value. Miss Roberts will be supported by a strong company, including Melbourne MacDowell, Lucius Henderson, William Yerrance, Gregory Rogers, Christian Lynton, Forrest Seabury, Frank McQuinn, Al White, and the Misses Adele Worth, Louise Royce, Georgie Woodthorpe, Anita Allen, Lillian Armsby, and Little Ollie Cooper. Thursday night for her last performance Miss Roberts will present the delightful Spanish romance, "Marta of the Lowlands."

TWELFTH NIGHT.

Miss Marie Wainwright, known to all the world as one of the leading exponents of Shakespeare's masterpieces, is soon to treat the play-lovers of this city to her world-famous impersonation of Viola in "Twelfth Night," which, as every one acquainted with Shakespearean productions knows, is as much "a comedy of errors" as the other play to which the Bard of Avon gave that name. Miss

WILLARD SIMMS AND ESTHER KING IN "KING DODO."

Wainwright's role is that of the disguised page who turns the heads of the titled lovers of Illyria without regard to sex and paves the way for a very advantageous alliance for the long missing brother who was her double, while herself laying siege to the heart of the duke she admires. Miss Wainwright carries Viola through the jumble of complications into which her male disguise throws her with a delicacy of touch that makes her performance one of the most charming on the stage. It will be presented at the Macdonough Theater next Friday and Saturday nights with a special matinee on Saturday afternoon. Seats will be on sale next Monday.

ORPHEUM ROAD SHOW.

The announcement that the Orpheum Road Show will pay its annual visit to this city on Monday evening, January 23, at the Macdonough Theater, is sufficient to attract tremendous audiences. McIntyre and Heath, the perennial favorites, who are funnier than ever, will present that convulsing classic "The Georgia Minstrels." The novelty of the program is a European importation that will be offered by Spessard's trained bears and ponies, showing a sensational exhibit of animal training at its best.

A star of the "Gaiety Girl" Company, in the person of Grace Palotta, presents a beautiful singing act, entirely new to vaudeville, assisted by four pretty girls in becoming costumes. Frank and Jen Latoro have an original musical comedy "The Lady Slavey." Clarice Vance has the catchiest selection of rag time patter songs she has offered for several seasons. "The Bell Boy and the Maid" is the title of a snappy acrobatic sketch presented by Smith and Kessner. "Probst the Great" will give imitations of the songs of the birds, the language of animals and the buzzing of machinery.

"THE DARLING OF THE GODS."

Almost direct from a notable and most highly successful three weeks engagement in San Francisco, David Belasco will present Blanche Bates and her big company of metropolitan players at the Macdonough Theater for three nights beginning on Tuesday evening, January 24, in Mr. Belasco's beautiful story of old Japan "The Darling of the Gods." In the role of Princess Yo-San, Miss Bates is provided with excellent dramatic opportunities to depict emotion as well as to enact comedy. The action of the play takes place in Japan during the period of the "sword edict" when the Emperor took away the swords of the Samurai—the two-sword men—and the play deals with a band of ten who were outlawed because of a refusal to obey the edict. Prince Kara, the chief of this clan, by chance rescues the Princess of Iosun and his beautiful young daughter, Yo-San, from bandits as they are on their way from the temple where, since infancy Yo-San has been dancing as a miko, or darling of the Gods. Yo-San's father bids Kara to his home as a guest, and there he meets Zakkuri, the terrible War Minister, who has been seeking the life of Kara's son, his band of ten, in accordance with the Emperor's edict. He also meets Tondou-Panji, the nephew of Zakkuri, to whom Yo-San has been betrothed since infancy, and whom in honor the prince, her father, expects her to marry. To Yo-San love is the one thing to live for. Kara love is great but honor is the first and guiding principle by which to live and for which to die. The development of these motives

The music that runs through the drama is Japanese in theme and treatment. It was especially composed for this production by William Tursi, and will be rendered by an orchestra of twenty musicians. In arranging this Mr. Tursi has gained many of his efforts through the use of native Japanese instruments—the biwa, samisen, koto, tsuzumi and fuge.

Among Miss Bates' supporting company are Eugene Ormonde, George Wessells, Albert Bruning, Thomas J. McGrane, Rankin Duvall, Frederick A. Thomson, Westrop Saunders, Edward Flannery, Mrs. F. M. Bates, Ada Lewis, Leslie Preston, Madge West, Lulu Klein, Ruth D. Blake, and a number of others.

AT YE LIBERTY.

Bishop's players will be seen at Ye Liberty Playhouse but three more times before their appearance in San Francisco at the Majestic Theater, and will present tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night this week's great comedy success, "A Nutmeg Match." It has been heartily enjoyed by large audiences all week and is considered one of the big successes of that popular theater. All of the members of

has been hailed as the greatest stock company that has ever been organized and which has met with the most effusive praise from both press and public of the town across the bay will make its initial appearance at Ye Liberty Playhouse where in the future it will alternate with Bishop's players and will make all original productions in that cozy and popular theater.

"The Bells," Sir Henry Irving's masterpiece, will be the opening bill, and it will serve as an excellent means of introducing the company particularly J. H. Gilmour, who is the leading man of the organization. Mr. Gilmour is an actor of recognized ability and is considered the pre-eminent leading man of the country. He has frequently assumed the role of Mathias in this wonderful drama and metropolitan critics rank him as the best ever seen on an American stage. Miss Eleanor Gordon is the leading woman of the company and she has already endeared herself to local playgoers. Others in the company are Robert Elliott, Frank McVicar, John O'Hara, Miss Elsie Esmond, Miss Margaret Maclyn and other players of prominence. Robert Morris is the stage director and there is none better.

The production of "The Bells" should most certainly prove a dramatic treat to the patrons of Ye Liberty.

Next week Bishop's players, who have been reorganized and greatly strengthened, will appear at the Majestic Theater in "All the Comforts of Home," and the following week will return to Ye Liberty in a scenic revival of "The Mountebanks," while the Majestic company will return to its home theater in "The Bells."

THE NOVELTY.

The splendid bill now being given this week at the Novelty Theater will be presented for the last time today and tomorrow—afternoon and evening. Those who will make their initial appearance are among the leading vaudeville stars on the stage today.

Among them are Coppola and White, comedy sketch artists who have won high laurels on Eastern circuits by their clever acting. "Texas," the noted comedian, said to be one of the best in his line, comes to the coast for the first time; the Stubbins, triple trapeze performers; Harry Boyd, known as the "Black Turkey," Kelsey, singers, singers and dancers; Norman Stanley, the illustrated singer, has several new songs. The moving pictures will consist of "Life of Louis XIV," produced here for the first time in California.

The penny arcade is open daily from 1 p. m. until the last evening show.

There is a matinee every day, and at least two evening performances, with extra entertainments on Saturdays and Sundays.

EMPIRE.

The weekly business at the Empire Theater has been a record-breaker. It was necessary to give an extra performance each evening so as to accommodate the crowds. Raymond, assisted by his wife, amused the audience with his mind-reading and cabinet mystery. By special request he will continue the balance of this week with his cabinet mystery. The balance of the program is well worth seeing.

The Raymond Company has been retained for the coming week, commencing January 15. During the week the hand-cuff trick will be introduced in connection with his other mysteries.

On Wednesday afternoon, January 15, there will be a special matinee for the benefit of ladies and children. While performing his magic tricks Raymond will introduce a new trick by making candy "bon bon." The candy will be distributed to the ladies and children present.

Another big head liner will be "The Fire George," in a sketch entitled "Pat's Gen." This act has played the Orpheum circuit, making a tremendous hit.

"Eveline," a renowned female contortionist; May Edwards, a coon shouter; and Henry M. King are among the other artists booked for next week. A new set of motion pictures from Niles Brothers, will conclude the bill. Matinees will be given daily at 2 p. m. evening performances are at 7:45 and 9 p. m. There are extra shows on Saturdays and Sundays. The admission remains the same, ten cents.

ALCAZAR.

Again, the Alcazar's brilliant players are to be seen in a high-class comedy, and again the enterprise of the management is shown in next week's presentation for the first time in San Francisco of Clyde Fitch's quaint and unconventional play, "The Girl and the Judge." It ran for months when produced with Annie Russell and the late Mrs. Gilbert in the cast, at the Lyceum, New York, about three years ago. "The Girl and the Judge" is not rural like "Lovers Lane," nor a satire upon fashion's follies like "The Climbers," but it is full of the crisp wit and unconventionalism that have made Fitch the richest and, in a sense, the representative modern American playwright. The Judge is a handsome young jurist in a Western State. The girl, ingenious, sweet and appealing, is the daughter of a dissipated father and a kleptomaniac mother. One of the most vivid and unique scenes in modern drama, is that where the mother and daughter have retired to bed for the night and the wretched woman confesses her offenses to the unhappy child. John Craig and Lillian Lawrence, of whose artistic work the whole town is talking, are the young couple who fall in love under peculiar circumstances.

THE SILVER SLIPPER.

Next Sunday matinee will witness, at the Grand Opera House, the second edition of John C. Fisher's stupendous musical production, "The Silver Slipper," which will be easily recalled by theatergoers as being in its vastness, daring and superiority, the most complete musical organization that ever appeared from the bare stage of the theater, and local assistance. Fritz Edwards, Harry Duercher, Freeman, W. E. White, and the Misses Beatrice Golden, Lora Ziehl, Edith Sinclair, Isabelle Howell, Gene Cole and May Williams, together with the sextette, Yonny, student and show girls, add the marvelous sextette of English dancing girls, whose lightning evolutions in the "Champagne Dance" have proved even more famous than the lyrical sextette "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden," from "Pierrotina." In addition there is a chorus of forty, and an orchestra of twelve.

THE TIVOLI.

The success of the Italian Grand Opera at the Tivoli Opera House this week has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the management, which is only another way of saying that the public has been well pleased with the productions.

The various members of the company have demonstrated their superior ability both as singers and actors, and have won the hearts of the music-loving public on both sides of the bay.

Tetrazzini, Signor Romoli and Signor Bazzelli are perhaps the equals of any opera singers that have been heard on the coast, and in fact the company as a whole is most excellent.

Tonight the opera "Rigoletto" will be given, and undoubtedly will be as well received as it was on Wednesday, opening night.

Tomorrow evening the ever popular "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be presented, together with "I Pagliacci."

Next week the repertoire will consist of many of the best known and most useful productions.

Chasing the Oakland Young Men—Modest Fee in a Big Case—Joaquin Miller's Verse—Gossip Across the Bay.

OAKLAND'S MAN HUNT

In Oakland the pursuit of man is as strenuous and persistent as in the pursuit of happiness in other communities. The pursuing villain is, of course, woman—man's natural enemy. This condition has developed a specific phase of the social relationship in that it has reversed the attitude of man towards women—in Oakland. Since the Edenic apple season, disastrously memorable as the period in which woman first learned her power to beguile man, it has been the habit of man to worship woman as something not at all lower than the angels. He has erected her into a goddess before whom it is his duty and his privilege to grovel abjectly; under whose foot it is his joy to place his unworthy neck; and in whose presence at all times it is his pleasure to regard himself as a mere concomitant of inscrutable nature whereby other women may be created to dominate, tyrannize, and gloat over man. In the catechism of man, as formulated from the dawn of history and civilization, the first and most important question has been: "What is man's chief end?" And the answer has been as unvarying and inevitable as an echo from the adamant hills: "To love, honor, obey, cherish and support woman." It is not so in Oakland. In that city woman has ceased to inspire chivalrous emulation in the heart of man. The women of Oakland are the chasers and the men are the chased. If the young woman of Oakland would forego her with some favorite young man she must seek him out and with soulful pleading implore his condescension and his mercy upon one forlorn—lonely amid the social development. Even the lure of her womanly eloquence, the traditional and hereditary coquetry of the eternal feminine, is not entirely sufficient to move the bowels of the Oakland young man's compassion. Like Alnascher the porcelain peddler he spurns the princess kneeling at his feet unless she promises that her father will pay the freight. If the companionship of an Oakland young woman costs the Oakland young man nothing he will ride with her, dance with her, and accompany her to the theatre. It is fortunate for the Oakland young woman that she is usually the possessor of a hard-working, high-salaried, daughter-indulging father. It is requisite that this sort of fatherly appendage shall occupy a place in every Oakland household out of which lovely daughters sallied in pursuit of the fugacious and penniless Oakland young man. The pecunious father is as necessary in the daughterly scheme for herding prospective impecunious sons-in-law as is the cook and the chambermaid in the family economy, with this difference, that the father pays all the expenses including the expenses of the daughter and her young man and the wages of the cook and the chambermaid. The Oakland father is a chapter by himself—tragic chapter in the human comedy of Oakland.—Town Talk.

THEY MUST BE BRIBED

All the dancing parties in Oakland are organized by the young women. The memory of the oldest inhabitant does not recall the time in the history of Oakland when it was otherwise, neither does the ancient burgher remember that the young men of Oakland have ever given a "return party" acknowledgement of the hospitality and entertainment of these generously fathered hostesses. Even the carriages and the flowers are paid for by the fathers of the daughters of Oakland. It is one point to the credit of the Oakland young man that he yields under compulsion. He is free to admit that he cannot afford the luxury of "keeping company" with the Oakland young woman; but when the Oakland young woman tells him that "pa will pay," common politeness and an atavistic inclination implanted by an ancestry that worshipped woman, finally induces compliance with the young woman's demand. He is as a sheep led to the sacrificial altar. And in spite of these premium offers—these prize package inducements—the salons and dancing halls of Oakland are still sadly deficient in young men. So scarce are young men in these places, despite the enforced tribute levied by the man-chasing daughters of Oakland upon the conscript fathers, that the young women are forced to order all their parties for the afternoon so that they may not risk going to society functions at night unattended by a male escort. These afternoon affairs are chiefly devoted to bridge whist, five hundred, dominoes and gossip. The dowagers are in command at these functions and the young women tail on like the kids that followed the pied piper of Hamelin. An afternoon tea in Oakland society is a manless Eden. The result is that the Oakland young woman in search of a man would sacrifice her chaperon to attain her desire, but even this conventional treason would not move the Oakland young man unless the fair traitor at the same time placed at the disposal of the balking youth a well filled purse out of which to pay everything, from car fare to the price of a dinner after the theatre at the swellest restaurant in San Francisco, with wine included. Sometimes a marriage is the culmination of this man hunt in Oakland. Then—but why attempt to portray the horror of that catastrophe!—Town Talk.

A LETTER FROM MRS. HEARST

Mrs. Hearst is soon to return to California. It is said that she will open the beautiful Hacienda and also the big country house on the river and entertain regally in both places. She has been in poor health and that is why she has remained abroad so long. She spent the Christmas holidays in Rome, and in a letter to a friend in Berkeley, she said: "I suppose I lack the true artistic spirit but I would rather hear the yells of the University of California and see the co-eds strolling in groups across the campus, regardless of warning signs, than listen to the hallowed bells of St. Peter's. This is holy to the point of bending the spirit to earth in adoration but while we are deplorably poor in tradition out there on the shores of the Pacific, it is a holy place because it is 'home,' dearest spot on earth." Mrs. Hearst was in Paris for the late autumn and before that she wandered over Switzerland. It is her intention to leave Rome directly after Easter, and, after spending some time in New York with that wonderful baby, George Hearst, Jr., she will probably bring her daughter-in-law and grandson with her to California to make part of the big house party that will be entertained at both country seats during the summer.—Town Talk.

THE TIRELESS PRESS AGENT

The cunning hand of a press agent is discernable in the most recent fake advertisement which extols Edna Wallace Hopper as a philanthropist. Most pathetic is the story about the young actress stumbling over the prostrate form of a small boy, half frozen and nearly starved, yet clutching to his few remaining unsold newspapers. Miss Hopper's concern was where to lodge the waif, and she carried him to her rooms in the hotel, in Omaha. A physician was called and the boy restored to consciousness, and as he had not any home the actress made him "her guest during her stay in Omaha." This incident, according to the veracious press representative, has decided Miss Hopper to "donate ground for the building of a home for newsboys in Oakland, her native city"—which, by the way, is nothing of the kind. She was born in San Francisco. During her engagement in San Francisco this month the dedication will take place. Analyzing the fake, there are discovered a few inconsistencies. Newspaper boys may possibly starve and freeze to death in Omaha, but they are well-fed and properly clad in wealthy San Francisco; consequently, a Newsboys' Home does not seem to be required at Oakland. Another question arises—What will Miss Hopper "dedicate"? The ground which she has donated or the building? Who is building the home? Another very pertinent query: Why do the daily newspapers constantly lend themselves to such palpable impostures, which insult the intelligence of their readers?—Wasp.

HISTORY OF THE FAIRMONT

Mrs. Herman Oelrichs not having the courage to risk the necessary capital in a hotel enterprise has decided to make the Fairmont an apartment house. This was street rumor, but it has been denied. It was also reported that the Fairmont was originally designed for an apartment house. The report is inaccurate. Charley Fair was in favor of building apartment houses on the Fairmont site, but his sisters were wedded to the hotel project, and when he found that he could not dissuade them from engaging in that enterprise he expressed a desire to sell his one-third interest in the land. They made him an offer and he closed the deal for seventy-five thousand dollars. Later on, Willie K. Vanderbilt, who doesn't think very much of San Francisco, advised his wife to withdraw from the hotel project, and she sold her half interest to Mrs. Oelrichs. A little later differences arose between Hermann Oelrichs and his wife, and they made some sort of financial settlement. As Oelrichs had conceived the hotel project, and had stimulated the enthusiasm of his wife, when he ceased taking an interest in her business affairs and she listened to her society friends in New York, her enthusiasm began to ooze out. However, let us hope that she will not favor the apartment house scheme.—Town Talk.

JOAQUIN'S POETIC PROTEGE

English verse as measured out by Yone Noguchi, a precocious little Japanese kitchen boy, is certainly a curiosity which is a valid excuse for Joaquin Miller giving prominence to four halting lines of exotic "poetry" on his picturesque New Year's cards. Noguchi is "handsome," and whilst engaged in washing up dishes in the kitchen the boy lisped in pretty numbers. The Poet of the Heights one day caught the budding genius spinning out English verse by the yard. The veteran gave Noguchi a lift on to Pegasus and away he went with introduction to New York and London. We have not yet heard that publishers have snapped up Noguchi's screed, the following lines of which are a specimen: "I breathed thy breath, my master; I walked under the light of thy thought. Thou art a star; I (a little lily) Turn up the face to greet thee." The above verses formed the center of Joaquin Miller's New Year's cards. In one corner is the portrait of the poet himself, and in the other that of Charles Warren Stoddard. The cards are very valuable, and much prized by collectors.—Wasp.

NEWS FROM THE FUNSTONS

I hear that the little fighting hero of Kansas, Brigadier-General Frederick Funston, who married an East Oakland girl after a few days' acquaintance—having met, wooed and wedded her as an incident of his trip to the seat of war in the far East, is having the time of his life in Chicago. He was recently appointed to the command of the Department of the Middle West, with headquarters at Chicago, and, from the accounts written by Mrs. Funston to her home, they know how to treat a great man in that part of the world. Soon after they settled in their new home Brigadier-General Frederick and Mrs. Funston were given a reception by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Funston, who, by the way, had enough admiration in Manila to turn the head of an experienced woman of the world, received "an ovation." When the couple were in Manila the hero's wife turned aside every bit of homage, considering it all a reflected light belonging to the big little general. "Fred" is still in her eyes the one and only man in and out of the army who is worth mentioning. There is a pretty story told at the time of the marriage, which took place during the absence of the young woman's father, Otto Blankhart, at the seat of hostilities in the Orient. Some one remarked to the bride that it was too bad that her father should not have been present to bestow his blessing upon her. "Yes," said the bride of an hour, "and I do feel sorry for papa, to think that he is spending another year, perhaps, without meeting Fred."—Wasp.

ONE LAWYER'S FEE

I hear a good many guesses as to the amount received by Garrett McEnerney in the Dolbeer will case. I understand that the retainer was $5,000, and the fee for trying the case in the Superior Court was $15,000, making $20,000 in all as far as the case has gone. For a man of Mr. McEnerney's very extraordinary talent this was quite a moderate fee in a case where such a large sum was involved. There is still, of course, the appeal to the Supreme Court to be argued, and that will increase the distinguished lawyer's fee considerably. In a number of cases of much less magnitude, and where the legal contests was not nearly so hazardous, San Francisco lawyers of lesser ability have received much larger fees. Still, few barristers would object to a $20,000 fee in any case.

One hundred thousand dollars would be a very moderate estimate of Mr. McEnerney's income from his professional work alone during the past year, into which he compassed an amount of labor that would do credit to six men. He crossed the continent twice to argue cases in New York and Washington, and has been leading counsel in a number of important cases here. Perhaps one of his most profitable bits of business, of which the public heard little or nothing, was the sale of the Haywards Building for something considerably over a million dollars. The deal was transacted in Mr. McEnerney's office, and probably consumed no more time than it would take to serve a subpoena in a law suit. At the usual commission of two per cent allowed on real estate sales the transaction would have paid a very handsome fee. The surprise occasioned by Mr. McEnerney's phenomenal success at the bar is increased when one remembers that this very remarkable lawyer is not yet 40 years old.—Wasp.

MAY FESTIVAL OF MUSIC.

PREPARATIONS FOR ORATORIO CHORUS ARE NOW UNDER WAY.

Alameda county singers with a liking for oratorio chorus work will have an excellent opportunity to indulge their taste in this direction for the next two or three months. Under the direction of Alexander Stewart, a chorus of several hundred singers is to be formed in Oakland to participate in the May musical festival to be given in the Mechanics' Pavilion in San Francisco next May. The festival is to be given under the auspices of the San Francisco public school teachers, and the proceeds are to be devoted to their annuity fund. It is expected to have a grand chorus of no less than one thousand voices, to be directed at the concerts by Dr. H. J. Stewart of San Francisco, and supported by Innes' celebrated band of New York, and a pipe organ. Mendelssohn's great "Hymn of Praise" will be the chief choral work to be performed, also choruses from "Parsifal," "Lohengrin" and "Tannhauser." The rehearsals of the Alameda county section of the chorus will begin Thursday evening, January 26, at the Assembly Hall of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been kindly donated for the rehearsals by the Board of Education. The use of music will be furnished free to members of the chorus, and no membership fee will be required. A season ticket for the festival concerts will be presented to each member of the chorus who has attended the rehearsals with a certain degree of regularity.

Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley singers desiring to join the chorus should address Mr. Charles E. Andrews, the secretary of the Alameda County Chorus, 620 Sixteenth street, Oakland, at once, as the membership list will be closed as soon as the required number of singers is obtained. The auxiliary festival committee from the Alameda county schools who will assist in the organization of the chorus of this side of the bay are: E. B. Fisher and Miss Anne F. Brown of Oakland; E. D. Vagstad and Miss L. V. Sweeney of Berkeley; Fred Moore and Miss Ida Fisher of Alameda.

GERMANY HAS BEEN NEUTRAL

BERLIN, January 14.—The Japanese Government, taking cognizance of an impression that Germany has not observed strict neutrality, has sent a formal dispatch of thanks to the German Government. It expresses the conviction that Germany has fulfilled her duties as a neutral throughout the war with exactness and especially during the recent events in the war zone.

Cures Those a Thousand Miles Away the Same as Those Who Call in Person.

Takes No Money for His Services, Says His Mission is to Heal Diseases and Teach Mankind a Secret Law of Nature Which Has Been Overlooked by Doctors and Scientists for Centuries Past.

(From the Buffalo Courier.)

ROCHESTER, Jan. 7, 1904.—(Special correspondence)—Prof. Thomas F. Adkin, a wealthy resident of this city, has truly created a sensation among the medical fraternity. By some mysterious law of nature he has done practically everything that doctors and scientists who have witnessed his work are looking for him to do this next. In fact, they have been so taken back that they would not now be surprised at anything. They admit that all their remedies and treatment are but toys and tinies as compared with the wonderful discovery of this remarkable man. People say that he possesses divine power. Many of those who have been cured by his mysterious power look on him as a god. But Prof. Adkin says: "No, I have no divine power. There is nothing supernatural about me, I have simply discovered a secret law of nature which has been overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past. I believe that any man's life can be saved so long as he is not so much as the vital organs of the body have not been destroyed, and I further believe that when a man is dying, a discovery a little more I shall be able to rescue him from anyone from dying, drowning or other causes which do not destroy the vital organs. I know these are strong statements, but look at some of the people I have cured. They were all but dead, doctors said they had no hope, yet in many cases I rid them of actual diseases in less time than it takes to tell you about it. There was Mrs. L. A. Phillips, of Trawick, Tex., who was dying of cancer of the breast when I took hold of her case. Here is her letter: 'Read what she says. I never saw her since she was cured, but the same as if she had been in my office.' The reporter was handed several letters from patients, among them that of Mrs. Phillips. The following extracts are taken word for word from some of the letters. Mrs. Phillips writes: 'When I first began your treatment I had no faith in it at all. I had tried so many kinds of medicine with no benefit. I had been under the treatment of twelve different hospitals with no relief, and then I employed two home doctors, but they soon got so they did me no good, and told me they could do nothing for me, and that if I could do anything I could do me any good for me to get it, for they had done everything they could. I suffered from every disease that flesh is heir to. I had been bedfast for five years, unable to stand up longer than ten minutes at a time. If ever a woman suffered as I did, I could not tell but on one side I had two large bed sores that gave me a great deal of trouble and I suffered so much in other ways. I had kidney trouble, catarrh of the bladder and also gravel. I used to suffer at times until I had spasms. I also suffered from falling of the womb, ulcers and chronic indigestion, and I could not eat any food. My friends all said that I was dying, and I was nothing but skin and bones, now I am feeling better than I have for years. I have been able to do my own work, and I have been able to give you a trial.' Mrs. Hattie E. Kelly, Seal Cove, Me., writes: 'Words can hardly express the gratitude I feel for what your treatment has done for me. Who attacks are not I had given up hopes of ever being well.'

SOLANO TO BE REPAIRED.

BIG FERRYBOAT TO GO ON NEW MARINE WAYS AT WEST OAKLAND.

WEST OAKLAND YARDS, January 14.—It is expected that between February 1 and 15 the steamer Solano, the largest ferry in the world, will arrive at new marine ways for a thorough overhauling. While it is believed the task can be completed in three months, some think it will take considerably longer, as there is much work to be done on the big boat. During the time that the Solano is on the ways, trains will have to go round by Tracy and Lathrop, as no other steamer will be utilized for the passage of Carquinez bridge traffic.

REPAIR HAMMER.
One of the big steam hammers in the blacksmith shop has been given a general overhauling and is now as good as new.

DREDGERS AT WORK.
Two dredgers are now employed in clearing the mud out of the channel at the new marine ways. One is of the suction variety.

GRIPPE IS PREVALENT.
A slight epidemic of grippe is reported among the employees here. In most cases, however, the attacks are not severe and those afflicted are only ill for a day or two at most.
